

BRISCOE
THE CAR WITH THE HALF MILLION DOLLAR MOTOR

$1095

F.O.B. Brockville

A MOTOR that will give you all the speed you need—and that will cost, for operating, an insignificant "per cent." of the monthly charges involved in the ownership of a big car.

You cannot get Briscoe economy of 25 miles to the gallon—or the extraordinary Briscoe tire mileage—in any but a proved car like this, which has in two years demonstrated the wonder of the Briscoe design.

And there is no beauty in the light car class that matches Briscoe beauty of line and Briscoe finish.

Test Sand For Use in Concrete.

It is not a difficult matter to tell whether the sand or gravel is suitable for building purposes when concrete is used. The methods for this determination are so simple that the ordinary layman could perform them as well as the laboratory operator.

A colorimetric test may be used for detecting the presence of organic impurities of a humus nature in sand. It is seldom that organic impurities, other than those of a humus nature, are found in natural sand. Impurities in sand which will render it unfit for concrete are usually organic impurities. Clay is often found in sand or gravel, but usually not in sufficient quantities to render the sand or gravel unfit for concrete purposes.

A simple field test may be performed as follows: Fill a 12-ounce graduated prescription bottle to the 4½-ounce mark with the sand to be tested. Add a 3 per cent. solution of sodium hydroxide (Na O. H.) until the volume of the sand and solution after shaking amounts to 7 ounces. Shake thoroughly and let it stand for 24 hours. Observe the color of the liquid above the sand.

If the solution resulting from this treatment is colorless, or if it has a light yellowish color, the sand may be considered satisfactory in so far as organic impurities are concerned. On the other hand, if a dark-colored solution is produced, the sand should not be used in high grade work such as is required in roads, pavements, or in building construction.—E. B. House, Colorado Agricultural College.
