Minister to the Court of St, James, will be especially charged with the duty of bringing it to close. It is not, however, without misgivings that some eminent men in the neighbouring country regard the re-opening of the question. Can the United States go into court with clean hands? Mr. Reverdy Johnson had specific instructions as to the manner in which he should treat with the British Government. He negotiated a treaty in the very spirit of the instructions which he had received. Not satisfied with this result the American Government asked that the commission to be appointed to settle the claims should sit at Washington instead of London; and this point was conceded by Great Britain. What more could the United States want? It is difficult to see. Yet all the world was a sent postage prepaid, the subscription is now sent postage prepaid the subscripti this result the American Government asked want? It is difficult to see. Yet all the world overdue. knows the Clarendon-Johnson treaty was rejected by the Senate, and Mr. Reverdy Johnon himself recalled amidst anything but the plaudits of the American people. True, he had obtained all he was instructed to ask, but, then, in his public speeches he had toadied too much to John Bull! What a humiliating position for a nation to place itself in! In the last number of Harper's Weekly, whose political articles have lately become prominent, from the fact of their being under the direction of Mr. Geo. William Curtis, a jurist of repute, Gen. Schenck's appointment is referred to in the most favourable terms. But, not quite so the position in which the United States have placed hemselves. The writer expresses a hope that the Government have a distinct view of the manner in which the controversy about to be re-opened should be concluded. He refers to unfortunate position the American Government placed itself in by rejecting a treaty which was their own suggestion, and adds: But no American can torget that, even if he (Gen. Schenck) is unanimously confirmed, and invites negotiations and proposes terms, and

A report from the Assessors shows that the value of the real estate of the incorporated district in 1 69 was about $600,000. In six years the value of real estate is said to have doubled in St. Stephen. Having, before putting these Bonds upon the market, under the direction of one of our most re liab e legal advisers, made the fullest enquiry into the issue and endorsation of these Bonds, I have much pleasure in recommending them as an invest-ment that will I think give the utmost security and satisfaction. They are already becoming a favorite investment; quite a number of leading capit this Province and in Nova Scotia have invested in These Bonds are still offered at 95, which will be found to yield over six and a half per cent interest per annum. The interest for even months is only is charged. Parties desiring to invest for esates can-not find a security paying the same interest that will be more reliable. Further particulars cheerfully furnished on application to.
