WEST BRANT FIRE

There was a danger of part of West Brantford being wiped out of existence last night when the fire bell rang. A little fire among some straw suddenly blazed up in the heart of a district of wooden sheds and frame houses. It spread and was soon out of control. Mr. Ernest Snider, who had been shovelling snow nearby. He went to the blaze, and with his huge shovel proceeded to fight the flames, and so well did he succeed that he kept the conflagration from spreading until Chief Lewis and his brigade arrived on the scene and made short work of the outbreak. The structure damaged belongs to William Edwards, coal and wood dealer, at the corner of Grant and Winnett streets. The damage done would be covered by thirty or forty dollars, but it was lucky that Mr. Snider happened on the scene, or the damage might have been very extensive. 151

FAMOUS ATHLETE

McL Brock who for some years was captain of the Toronto Varsity Basketball team, and also one of the best sprinters in Canada, was seen in a practice match on the Y. M. C. A. gym floor last night. His exhibition was brilliant and he took 26 points of the 30 scored by his side. The intermediates who were up against the Seniors, and were defeated by a double score, 60-30. Had it not been for Brock they would have had no show, whatever, for the Seniors were in excellent trim, and worked fine combination. Brock will be sent out during the next two weeks with the Brantford boys. His work is very fast and snappy and his equal is not to be seen in Brantford. He is one of the finest players in the Dominion. His calibre as an athlete is recognized for he was one of the Canadian representatives at the last Olympic games and contests. ## A CHRISTMAS TOAST

(Dedicated to Brantford Golfers) Winter winds blow, cold and cheerless; darkness dims dame Nature's face. The links, alas! look lone, deserted, ne'er a player round the place. Golf is over for the season, old Jack Frost is holding sway. Nought is left but recollections, and the hope for future play. 151

No more we tramp the hills together, as we did in days gone by; No more we breathe the fragrant clover bank beneath a sunlit sky; No more we fight our friendly battles, strive for prizes that may be; Taste the bitterness of losing, or the joys of victory. 151

Yet, methinks, old winter's winging, time is fleeting, fast and sure; And the merry days of spring time, soon will be with us once more. Fill your glasses, then, dear comrades, with whatever may please you most. And I'll drink to one another, "Forl Cheers!" the Golfer's toast —W.H.W. 151

Xmas, 1914. 151
