FINE LIST OF ATTRACTIONS

"Omra the Tent-Maker" Coming Soon to the Grand.

HALL CAINE'S SON, ALSO Creator's Famous Band is Also a Coming Attraction.

Mr. J. T. Whitaker, the manager of the Grand Opera House, has a splendid list of attractions coming before the end of the present season, among the mbing some of a very high order.

Mr. Gus Hall's musical comedy, "Polly and Her Pals" with a large poly ballet and a company of 50 people, will be first among the coming attractions. Following this will be the famous English actor, Dewart Hall Caine, son of the famous English novelist, in Hall Caine's successful play "Pete." This is a very highly represented production.

Few people need any lengthy introduction to the attraction following Mr. Caine's. This will be "Omra, the Tent-Maker," and the success of this is practically assured as soon as announced. Another attraction which will appeal particularly to music-lovers, will be the appearance here of perhaps the world's greatest musical organization, the famous "Creator's Band."

Taken all in all, Manager Whitaker is to be congratulated on securing attractions of such sterling worth.

try a pair of torics. Toric lenses are deeply curved, affording a much wider range of vision and a correspondingly greater degree of comfort than it is possible to obtain from the old style flat lenses.

It's true torics cost a little more, but the difference in cost is so slight and the difference in comfort so great you'll always be glad you made the investment.
