Sporting Comment

Bill Brennan says the secret of success in the romantic fields of umpiring is decision and normal honesty. He believes further that the snappy verbal come-back often helps an "umps" and Bill prides himself no little on his ability as an extemporaneous commentator.

Louisville was a tough town for umpires last season, but William found it the most hospitable and gracious of southern cities. Will attributes much of his success in Kentuckian fields to a terse answer he once gave a Louisville player.

He called a pitch a ball.

"What's the matter with it?" howled an enraged Louisville player.

"I call 'em; I don't explain 'em," bellowed Bill in return.

Thereafter the city of Louisville was so taken with Bill's ability as a catch-as-can conversationalist that they took him to their hearts.

One of Bill's maxims is never to hesitate in rendering a decision. As the school book says, he who hesitates gets no moss, and Bill avers he would rather be out and out wrong about a decision than putter around thinking about it.

Decisions are reflexes anyhow, and it is better a man should reflex freely and quickly, even if erroneously, than to reflex not at all.

Furthermore, Bill is a great believer in letting the other fellows fight. He says any time he worked in a game played between the teams managed by John Ganzel and Bill Clymer in the American Association, he never had to worry a minute. The managers spent all their time fighting themselves, and consequently had no time to gun for William.

"If they tried to dog it," says William, "I used to say to Ganzel, 'Did you hear what Clymer called you?' Then I would tell Clymer that Ganzel said so and so. The result was they had a busy summer, but I found the work pleasant and easy."

CANADA OWES A DUTY TO BRITAIN

Appeal From Food Board—Are You Willing to do Farm Work?

By Courier Leased Wire

Ottawa, June 20.—A bulletin from the Canada Food Board says:

Great Britain in peace times depended upon imports for four-fifths of her food supply. One out of every seven of Scotland's total population is in the army, in England one out of every twelve, in Canada one out of every 17.

Britain despite army demands for men has increased her farm acreage by help of women, boys and labor diverted from towns and cities. She has also increased her production of munitions and ships and her manufactured exports, such as cotton, by which she finances herself.

But most of her usual sources of food supplies have been cut off by the war and scarcity of ships. Canada produces the largest visible food surplus in the British Empire. The responsibility for feeding the armes and the Mother Country falls directly upon Canada. The harvest of 1918 must be saved or millions will starve.

Let Canadians realize the truth before writing "yes" or "no" on the registration cards to the question: "Are you willing to do farm work?"

UNITY ESSENTIAL.

By Courier Leased Wire

London, June 20.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Premier Lloyd George, in a letter to Mr. Greet, coalition candidate in Clapham division, who is being opposed, says:

"The only issue at present is national unity. In a resolve to subordinate everything to winning the war, the Germans are bent on undermining the morale of the Allies by promoting distrust behind the lines. We have got to show that until the attempt of an unscrupulous military oligarchy to impose its despotism on the world has been definitely defeated that nothing can turn us aside from our goal. Only through winning the war can we realize the ideals of freedom for which we entered the war."

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:

"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421-5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

BELIEVED IT HAS SAVED HER LIFE

Superintendent's Wife Gains Thirty-One Pounds by Taking Tanlac

The following statement, made recently by Mrs. Annie Pasco, 57 Spadina Avenue, Ottawa, is not only interesting, but altogether remarkable:

"I have not only gained thirty-one pounds by taking Tanlac, but I firmly believe it has saved my life, and all who know of my dreadful condition are astonished at my wonderful recovery."

Mrs. Pasco's husband is superintendent of the J. R. Booth Paper Pulp Mill.

I had been bothered with stomach trouble off and on for about three years," she continued, "but it was only during the past year," she continued, "that my condition became so serious. I first noticed my appetite failing; everything seemed to taste the same to me and I had no relish for food of any kind. Then I began to suffer from gas, sour stomach and indigestion after meals. I had terrible headaches and felt weak and sluggish all the time. No one will ever know how I suffered because I cannot describe it. None of my friends or neighbors believed I would live three months.

"I had fallen off from one hundred and seventy pounds to one hundred and thirty-two, and got so weak I couldn't walk from the kitchen to the front door without holding on to something. I had to spend over half my time in bed, and was so nervous I was afraid to be left alone, and I could hardly sleep a wink at night. I took so much medicine without getting relief I became discouraged and out of heart.

"Finally I decided to try Tanlac as I had seen it recommended so highly, and before I finished the first bottle I noticed a decided change in my feelings. My appetite soon got better, the nervousness and indigestion began to disappear, and I could feel my strength returning. Then I began to regain my lost weight, and now I weigh one hundred and sixty-three pounds—have actually gained thirty-one pounds, and haven't had a touch of indigestion or stomach trouble in six months. My appetite is fine, I can eat just anything I want without the slightest discomfort afterwards, and my nervousness is gone entirely. I am feeling stronger and better than I have in years and am doing all my housework. I think it nothing but right that I should tell others about this wonderful medicine."

General Hu Chien Chang was once chief of the gendarmie of Peking and later governor of Shan-Si province.

FURTHER ITALIAN GAINS.

By Courier Leased Wire.

London, June 20.—By counter-attacking all along the Piave the Italians have gained further ground on the Montello in the northern sector of the river front and have also made headway southwest of this ridge, says the Evening Standard to-day.

The Austrians here had been occupying a narrow strip along the river bank. The Italians drove in the Austrian line and established themselves on the bank of the Piave below Saletto (about 18 miles from the Adriatic.) Through the reaching of the river here the positions occupied by the Austrians have been divided.

SECURING JAM FOR THE ARMY AND NAVY

Britain Takes Emergency Measures and Fixes the Fruit Prices

Ottawa, June 21.—In order to assure the supply of jam for the army and navy following the comparative failure of the fruit crop in the United Kingdom, the British Ministry of Food has been forced to take emergency measures and also to fix the prices of those fruits. The information is contained in a cable just received by the Canada Food Board from Lord Rhondda, British Food Controller. The latter again emphasizes the shortage of cheese in Great Britain.

May Ration Tea, Cheese, Jam.

The statement reads:

"The question of rationing tea, cheese and jam to the consumer in the British Isles is still under consideration. Owing to the comparative failure of the fruit crop, all contracts for the sale of fruit grown or to be delivered in the United Kingdom have been cancelled, as from June 17, growers who have more than one hundredweight of strawberries, raspberries, black currants or red currants, will not be permitted to sell such fruit to anyone except a licensed jam manufacturer. These emergency measures and the fixing of prices of these fruits have been adopted to assure the army and navy of adequate supplies of jam.

"The amount of cattle-feeding stuffs reaching the British markets is still very limited, and there is no indication of improvement during the current month. The Board of Agriculture is urging the farmers to adopt measures which will make them more and more independent of purchased feeding stuffs.

More Bacon, Cheese Still Short.

"Increased imports of bacon have permitted the restrictions on this commodity to be slightly modified. There is still a marked shortage of cheese.

"In order to meet the urgent problems of storage, Lord Rhondda has authorized the establishment of a general storage and inland transport department, which it is hoped will overcome many of the obstacles now encountered in this phase of the food problem."

AUSTRIAN STATEMENT.

By Courier Leased Wire.

Vienna, June 220.—The Austrian troops under Field Marshal von Boroevic have held all the ground they gained from the Italians on the west bank of the Piave to-day's official war office report states and in addition have driven the Italians back westward south of the railway that leads to Treviso. The new advance was made with the aid of infantry divisions under General Baron Schariser. The Italians attacked again southeast of Asiago on the mount in front, the statement adds, but met with the same poor success as on previous occasions.

The battle in the Montello increased in violence yesterday. The statement says the Italians drove forward six times and employed reserves indiscriminately, but all their efforts were in vain.

AMERICANS ADVANCE

By Courier Leased Wire

With the American Forces on the Marne, June 20.—(By the Associated Press)—The American troops in this sector attacked the German line northwest of Chateau Thierry during the night and made an advance of five eights of a mile, driving the Germans back from a small pocket on the northern side of Belleau wood.

The Americans occupied the German positions without resistance from the enemy, the Germans having withdrawn when the short and sharp preliminary artillery bombardment indicated that an infantry attack would follow.
