WERE LOST SHIPS IN COLLISION ?

Does Upturned Vessel Rest on the Regina?

SEEMSTO BE PROVED

By Evidence Produced at Thedford Inquiry.

Port Huron despatch: Does another vessel lie beneath the wreck of the overturned vessel in Lake Huron, 13 miles from Lere?

This is the theory advanced by Milton Smith, late assistant engineer of the ill-fated steamer Charles S. Price.

Mr. Smith returned to Port Huron to-night from Thedford, Ont., where he went to help to establish the identity of the men whose bodies were in the morgue there. The first body he identified was that of John Groundwater, chief en-gineer of the Price, whose home was in Cleveland.

'Are you sure?" asked the coroner. "As sure as I know my own name is Smith.' no replied "Well, this man had one of the Resina's life preservers wrapped about his body," said the coroner. Smith was dumifounded. How the chief engineer of the steamer Price happened to be found in one of the life preservers of the Regina was more than he could fathom. Then it dawned upon the Port Huron man that dawned upon the Port Huron man that the Regina and Price may have col-lided and in the attendant excitement sailors of each vessel grabbed the life preservers that happened to be near-

His theory is further strengthened His theory is further strengthened by the fact that the bodies of the men who went down on the Regina and the Price were found in precise-ly the same position on the shore, some of them even clasped in each other's arms. This practically sub-stantiates the helfer that the overturnother's arms. This practically sub stantiates the belief that the overturn ed vessel on Lake Huron is either the Regina or the Price. It also is thought that the vessels collided with such force that one of them either is piled on top of the other or that one of them has sunk completely from sight. That the accident occurred with terrible suddenness is established in Smith's identification of the Price's steward, Herbert Jones, of Superior,

"There he was," said Smith, "ly-ing there with his apron on, just as if he were about to prepare a meal or just had prepared it. Evidently the poor fellow did not even have time to look after his wife, who also was on board, which shows how quickly the boat must have gone down."

last night by Mrs. Sara Dannoviski, 113 Minnetonka street, St. Paul, sister-in-Sarnia despatch: Relatives of missing Minnetonka street, St. Faul, sisterink law of Beiliss. Realizing that to stay in Russia would only mean that in a short time he would be imprisoned or assassinated, Beiliss is fleeing to a land where so many of his countrymen have found nen from points in Canada and the States crowded the two hotels in the little village of Thedford to-day. Of the eleven bodies in the morgue, five have been identified. The man supposed to new homes. "For God's sake, don't let them ar-rest me!" screamed Mrs. Dannoviski in fear, when an interpreter translated the be Gustave Oleson, of the Regina, was identified to-day as John Groundwater, first engineer of the Price. Two men are known to be off the Regina, an unnamed man who is recognized as a Regina employee, and David M. Lawson of Chatham, N.B., oiler, latterly residing in Toronto. A telegram from his father, R. C. Lawson, was received tonight, directing the remains to be shipped to Chatham, N.B.

The identification of four of the Price's men was made easy to-day by a visit from Milton Smith, of 1,203 Ward street, Port Huron, who was assistant engineer on the Price until a week ago. He identified the following: John Groundwater, chief engineer, Cleveland; B. C. Mellyteck ubbelaux R. C. McIntosh, wheelsman, St. Clair, Michigan; Winson, McInnes, wheelsman, Johnston P.O., near Owen Sound; Her-Johnston P.O., near Owen Sound; Her-bert Jones, steward, Superior, Wis. Anong the Felatives seeking members of the ship's company are two brothers of Captain McConkey, of the Regina, two brothers of R. C. McIntosh, who will take the body there to-morrow morning. A sister of R. C. McIntosh was drowned at St. Clair some years ago on Novembar 9th, the day the Price is supposed to have foundered. Price is supposed to have foundered. The following names of their officers are given by Smith, but bodies have not then recovered: Captain W, M. Black, Cleveland; first mate, Charles Hart-man, St. Clair; second mate, Howard Mackley, St. Clair; second engineer, H. S. Brakeman. Much interest attaches to an unknown hody, the last to come ashire as the life communication are not ashore, as the life preserver bore-no name, and is of a different character, being covered with ticking, with a blue and red stripe. It is believed the man came from some hoat not yet reported. He has a star tattooed on each thumb. and figure of a woman on his shoulder Hands indicate he was a fireman. PETITION TO GOVERNMENT. It is felt here that this catastrophe should have the effect of inducing the Government to granting the desires of the Town Council of Goderich for en-larging the breakwater and making Goderich, which is about the centre of 160 miles of coast line, more of a har-bor of refuge than it has been in the past. The council has therefore drafted a resolution which is to be forwarded to the Minister of Public Works at Ot-tawa. It asks that as there is no pro-tection to the farbor in case of gales blowing from the southwest, thereby makinz it dangerous to vessels entering the harbor, the outside breakwatere should be extended to such an extent as may be deemed sufficient. as may be deemed sufficient. LIFEBOATS FOUND. Appalling evidences of Sunday's trag-edy are daily gathering from the shores of Lake Huron on both sides of this town. Almost continually are reports coming in of bodies being found and wreckage and other ship equipment be-ing discovered on the beach. However, no bodies have been discovered in this immediater locality to-day, although diligent search has been made. A new form of searching the beach has been introduced, and mounted scouts sent out by Mayor Reid to-day patrolled the shore on both sides of the town for miles in each direction. Late this after-noon a steel hull lifeboat was discover-ed about seven miles south of Goderich. It was a few feet from the shore, and on it was painted "Steamer J. A. Mc-Gean." Another lifeboat has been found upon the shore about two miles south of Mayfield. Several bodies picked up at Naftels and Grand Bend have reach-ed town. They are those of James (Gden, of Clinton; Murdock Macdonald, Goderich: Thomas Stone, of Owen Sound: George Scott and Arch. Slick Woman Got $100,000 in New York.

New York, Nev. 17 .- With the disappearance of a young woman who had entree to several fachionable homes on Fifth avenue and the discovery by the police of many diamonds in Bowery awnshops, a diamond swindie amounting to more than $100,000 is believed to have beer uncovered. A man with whom the young woman formed a partnership in the sale of diamonds on memorandum is also raissing. The grand jury to-morrow will begin an investiga-tion. The investigation by the police resulted from the arrest of Francis F. resulted from the arrest of Francis F. Cocks, a diamond broker, on Saturday last, charged with withholding dia-monds entrusted to him by another broker. Cocks' explanation to the disbroker. Cocks' explanation to the dis-trict attorney was that he gave the dia-monds to the young woman to sell, and that she had not returned them. Other brokers then told of having given the woman diamonds to sell on commission, and z search of pawnshops resulted in finding about $0,000 worth of these game.
