The New Fashions In Curtains Re-

The purchase of new curtains is an all important one and a question which drives to desperation many a shopper who is at other times unruffled. Helpless she sits there in the curtain de partment, while the obliging clerk gracefully displays his assortment, with all its glories, and at the end of a half hour the purchaser is in more of a maze than ever on the subject.

The principal point for her to re member in this season's choice is that the old styles are coming back and that the cornice is being revived. Last winter it made its appearance first, and a certain new hotel, which is supposed to be an authority on good taste, had all its rooms supplied with cornices made of the same cloth as the window-curtains. This style became popular then, but now the old fashion ed brass and gilt cornices of colonial days are most in demand. The originals are so rare that they are almost unattainable, but such good imitations are made that the difference can scarcely be noted.

When cornices were the fashion in former years it was the custom to draw back the curtains, but today they are, as a rule, allowed to hang. lambrequin is edged with gimp of the same shade as the cloth, and some times, when the curtains are made of some cheap little material, such as cotton or cotton and silk, this gimp is not used at all. Bedroom curtains, made of some soft material and edged with a ruffle of lace, are exceedingly effective hanging from a brass cornice no sash curtain being used.

Fortunately fashion does not sanc tion the Nottingham lace curtains, un-graceful, hard to launder and alto gether hideous. Swiss, madras and Cal-cutta net are welcome substitutes. Soft cream madras, ranging from 35 to 70 cents a yard, may be made into as pretty a curtain as any one could desire. Colored nets in a great variety of designs are used for casement curtains or for inner curtains when the glass is covered with a cream or white

In regard to making curtains a home, those who have the best success follow these rules: Make the about two inches wide; miter the corners; turn the top hem in two or three thicknesses, as the curtain is very apt to shrink when laundered.

Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine. Learn to tell a story. A well told story is as welcome as a suabeam in a sickroom. Learn to keep your own troubles to yourself The world is too busy to care for your ills and sorrows. Learn to do some Stuffed Sweet Peppers.

Select the sweet green peppers which are very mild. Have some cold cooked meat chopped fine and seasoned with salt and pepper. Cut the tops from the peppers and take out all the seeds, being sure not to miss one. Fill with the meat and set closely together in a baking dish. For five peppers mix one cup of strained cooked tomato, two tablespoons of water, a rounding table-spoon of butter and half a level teaspoon of salt. Pour into the peppers, then bake them in a slow oven, basting occasionally.

A Handy Table.
The following time table should be preserved by every mother, as it is of-ten a source of the greatest anxiety to know whether or not a child will de velop a disease after having been exposed to it: Chickenpox, symptoms usually appear on the fourteenth day, diphtheria, second day; measles, fourteenth day; mumps, nineteenth day; scarlet fever, fourth day; smallpox, twelfth day; typhoid fever, twenty-first day; whooping cough, fourteenth day.

The Gentle Kidney Cure.

Don't think that Bu-ju is not effective because it does not "tear things loose." The man, who talks most, does least. Kidney remedies that purgeand over-stimulate the kidneys — upset the stomach—are going to do you mighty little good.

THE GENTLE KIDNEY CURE goes about curing you gently, mildly, correctly. You never know you are taking medicine—excect that you begin to get better and keep on getting better. Bu-Ju heals inflammation in the kidneys—takes away that sharp pain in the back and the dull ache through the hips—stops excessive urinstion—and enables the diseastion—and enables the diseasting the hips—stops excessive urin-ation—and enables the disea-sed portions of the kidneys to heal and strengthen.

Minnesota Train Wreck. Minneapolis, Dec. 26.—The names of the victims of the wreck on the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Kailroad Sunday at Enderlin, N.D., have been given out here. Nine were killed and 41 injured. The dead include D. J. Beresford, Medicine Hat Canada, the younger brother of Admiral Lord Beresford of the Brit ish navy, who had a ranch in the Sierra Madre Mountains of Mexico, south of El Paso, and another at Medicine Hat, Canada.

The jury returned a verdict hold-ing the crew of the freight train re-sponsible for the wreck and passing severe censure upon the road for placing inexperienced men in positions where failure to perform their work properly had resulted in the collision.

Two of those injured in the wreck died Monday, making a total of 11 deaths.
