

Col. Nangle Back From England

Colonel (Rev.) T. Nangle arrived here on Saturday morning from France and England and was warmly welcomed by his numerous friends. The Padre since leaving here last year has been actively engaged in connection with the Vim Memorial which is being erected in France and England, at the scene of the Battle of the Somme, one of the most important actions of the war. The memorial park at Beaumont Hamel has been especially laid out under the supervision of Mr. Cochlin, who it will be remembered, superintended the laying out of Bowring Park. The bones which were sent from Newfoundland have been planted and with the few exceptions have taken root. When the park is finally completed it will present a very creditable appearance.

At Beaumont Hamel the old dugouts, which were blown in during the memorable battle of July 1st, have been recently cleared out and reconstructed and made presentable. At this time the bodies of unknown Newfoundlanders are still being recovered. There are no identification badges in Canada, some sixty of whom come from the different regiments. The Padre is looking well and is enjoying excellent health.

When the three B's start a job they will know how to handle it. They won't torture their minds with dread and doubt.

some 35 cemeteries where some thousands of England's bravest and best are resting, including those of "Ours" who fell there on July 1st. These cemeteries are being constructed and put into shape, the headstones erected and otherwise looked after.

The Newfoundland memorial at Cuedecourt is the only one completed to date, and work on the others, with the exception of Monchy, is well in hand.

The remaining memorials are being erected at Cambrai, Courtrai, in Belgium, on the banks of the Lys; Beaumont-Hamel and Monchy. At the latter place the work has been impeded by the fact that a considerable amount of blasting has to be done on the site. Monchy is a mass of concrete, as here the Germans built huge gun emplacements and concrete some 20 feet deep in some places has to be blasted.

Regarding the finding of some hundreds of skeletons at Albert, the Padre says that he visited the scene and satisfied himself that none of our men were amongst them, he also says that when the South Africans were preparing the site for their war memorial at Delville Wood, a large number of bodies were recovered and here too the Padre visited.

He will be here for some weeks and his present visit is in connection with the National War Memorial which it is proposed to erect on the beach, and also to go into the matter of properly caring for the graves of those of the Regiment who are buried here and in Canada, some sixty of whom come from the different regiments. The Padre is looking well and is enjoying excellent health.

When the three B's start a job they will know how to handle it. They won't torture their minds with dread and doubt.

Baby's Skin Troubles

Chafing, scalding, skin irritations and itching, burning eczema are quickly and thoroughly relieved and the skin kept soft, smooth and velvety by the use of

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Apply daily after the bath.

Oh, Mr. Gallagher, Oh, Mr. Gallagher, Who's the guy in town who thinks he knows it all.

He struts around and bows.

Yes and starts up all the rows.

Then makes a bee-line for the Board of Works.

Now, Mr. Shean, Now, Mr. Shean, I'll bet ten dollars I know the man you mean.

Sure, he's a plumber now by trade.

His money from Government contracts made.

Is it Ryan, Mr. Gallagher.

No, Phil Moore, Mr. Shean.

Need of Interest and Effort

(By JEAN E. JOHNSTON)

Some time since a short article appeared in one of our local papers regarding the word done by the Girls' Industrial Home Association during the past two years.

Since then the writer has made enquiries from various persons whose work brings them in touch with conditions about which very few of us have the least idea and the information gained convinces us, that more than ever is there need of some place, call it by what name you will, where young offenders can be trained in decent habits, personal responsibility and work—for again and yet again the fact is forced upon us that much of this evil is due to lack of knowledge and training.

There are three girls whom I know who have wandered the streets without homes (they sometimes had scarce ly shelter) who had been taken in hand by such an institution as we desire to establish when they first were brought under observation, would have made good. Today one is very ill, one without enough balance to see the need of working, the third so wayward that she cannot settle anywhere.

There is on our Statute Books now a law which could be much more effective had we the type of Home or Institution in which to place those wayward ones. Those who administer the law tell us of many in our city who should be in such a place and yet they can only be admonished or sentenced to the Penitentiary, where no training or uplift is obtainable.

Hearing a while ago that some interest had been aroused amongst members of the Old Colony Club, the writer attended the Saturday afternoon meeting, listened with pleasure and profit to an excellent paper on Social Service work given by Miss Lightbourn, and was privileged to be one of those who gave a few facts regarding the efforts made by our workers; many ladies present listened with apparent interest—May we ask them and all ladies young and old of every class and creed to help in this much needed work—Who will attend the meeting of the Association being held in the Music Room, Methodist College Hall, on Monday, 4.30 p.m., and give fresh zeal and help to the few already at work?

(Our friends desirous of helping can do so by sending their names and $1.00 as associate members of the Association.)

Farewell To Popular Athlete

At the B. I. S. Club Rooms yesterday afternoon a very pleasing function took place when Mr. Brian Johnson, formerly of the Royal Gazette staff, was presented by the young members of the Society with a shaving outfit. Mr. Johnson was a star member of the Irish baseball team, and played short-stop in an excellent manner. He was also a runner of merit and represented the team in several events. Owing to the closing down of the Royal Gazette office, Mr. Johnson is obliged to leave St. John's and is returning by the Sable to-day to his home in Halifax. The presentation at the hall was made by Mr. French, manager of the baseball team, and speeches were made by Mr. C. I. Munro and others who voiced the sentiments of the assembly when he referred to the regret of all at Brian's impending departure. During his stay in St. John's Mr. Johnson has become very popular and his love of clean sport and his many character, won him many friends. In thanking his friends for the kind remembrances Mr. Johnson voiced his own regret at leaving such a jolly bunch of pals and he hoped to have the pleasure of meeting them all again. Cheers were then given for Brian and his future success and with the singing of "He's a jolly good fellow" the gathering dispersed.

In leaving our shores Mr. Johnson take with him the best regards of all his friends and their wishes for his future prosperity. With the B. I. S. boys the general sport loving public joins in bidding him "good-bye and good luck."

Oh, Mr. Gallagher, Oh, Mr. Gallagher, Who's the babe that Cashin's bringing in the West.

He's got an awful cheek

But he'll certainly get weak.

When he sees that count come out over the door.

Now, Mr. Shean, Now Mr. Shean, I know the very man that you do mean.

He's the man who makes the barrels.

His shop's not far from Tailor Farrells.

You mean Linsgar, Mr. Gallagher, I sure do, Mr. Shean.
