THAW KISSED HIS MOTHER

Before Going on Stand to Prove That He is Sane.

Under Examination by District Attorney Jerome.

Punished Hundreds of Girls With Ivory Handled Whip.

White Plains, N. Y., July 28.-Harry K. Thaw turned to kiss his aged mother to-day as he strode firmly to the stand to prove by his own words that he is sane and deserving release from Matte

Then he settled back in the witnes chair, and in a low, but steady, voice began his duel with District Attorney Jerome. His first statement made a sensation in the breathless court room.

"I believe," he said, "that in acquitting me the jury was largely influenced by the belief that Stanford White deserved his fate."

"Another reason' I was acquitted," he continued, "was, I believe, because the attorneys on both sides told the jury that my act was caused by certain deluperjury to escape the consequences of your act?"

"No," replied Thaw, shaking his head. The district attorney abandoned this tack and spoke of hypnotism.

"Did you ever take lessons from a hypnotist named Ferris?"

"They could hardly be called lessons," said Thaw, smiling. "I talked with him four or five times," "I bid you ever think that Stanford White exercised a hypnotic influence over Miss Evelyn Nesbitt?"

"From her remarks I thought such a thing possible. At least he certainly had a very strong influence over her."

Speaking of Anthony Constock, Thaw said, half apologetically, "Since my arrest I am afraid I have not had any interest in his work."

IVORY HANDLED WHIP. White Plains, N. Y., July 27.—Harry K. Thaw sat in the Supreme Court here to-day and heard a woman's testimony that made his pallid face flush. He saw a pearl-handled dog whip exhibited, and he heard the witness swear that she had seen him use it on young girls. The he heard the witness swear that she had seen him use it on young girls. The prisoner's wife, Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, was in court and heard most of the testimony. The witness was Miss Susan Merril. Her testimony was in marked contrast to that of the two alienists who went on the stand and gave Thaw a clean bill of health, declaring that, in their opinion, he was sane. Summarized, her testimony was that during the three years named she kept in succession two New York lodginghouses where Thaw rented rooms under assumed names, and to which he in succession two New York lodging-houses where Thaw rented rooms under assumed names, and to which he brought at various times more than two hundred girls. After Thaw's imprisonment she said she paid these women at least $25,000 as the price of their silence and to "keep them from bothering Thaw's wife or his mother." One of them, who, she said, passed as Thaw's wife, received $7,000. The money came from Thaw. Thaw, she said, had posed as a theatrical agent, and had lured the girls to his rooms with promises of engagements. When she remonstrated with him, she testified, his excuse was that the girls "weren't smart enough and could not fill their positions and deserved a beating."

Under cross-examination by Charles Morschauser, counsel for Thaw, the witness was attacked fiercely. He succeeded in bringing out the fact that she had been recently imprisoned for perjury, after an unsuccessful attempt to recover $100,000 damages from a man.

The woman emphatically denied that she kept any money that passed from Thaw through her hands.

Then why did you stand for all this from Mr. Thaw? asked Mr. Morsehauser.

"Oh, I felt sorry for him," was he
