BASEBALL

A bunch of the good players of the Newspaper Soft Ball League that were entirely overlooked when the selection of the Newspaper All-Star team took place, defeated the present All-Star outfit, minus Fitzgerald, at the Victoria, Park yesterday afternoon, by the score of 18 to 9. Never have the Stars been bumped so completely, and never were they so surprised or astonished as yesterday. Every man on the winning team smashed the ball hard and often, and to think that heavy Charlie Aitchison, Archie Lithgow and even little Walter Green could hit Waite for clean home run drives, and only have to walk the circuit, for the core, was perfectly marvellous. Mr. wkins is manager and captain of the lawers, and he selected the "surprises" iv. His "champs" only had three my and about twenty hite They in knocked Waite out of the box in the last inning, and the damage to the All-Stars' record was done. Pitcher Wilkes, for the winners, did not exert himself after the first inning. The teams were:

Last night at the Woodland Park the Last night at the Woodland Park the American Can Co. defeated the Frost Wire Fence Co. in a close and exciting game of baseball. The Can Co. started to bat in the first inning, and hammerded out three runs. At the end of the fifth they had a lead of four, but the Frost Wire came in at the sixth and tied the score. Neither team scored in the sixth and seventh, and an extra inning had to be played, in which the American Can Co. scored the winning run.

In the junior soft ball Victoria Park League two very close games were play-ed last night. Hemstock, the pitcher for the Victorias, had better control for the Victorias, had better control than Martin, of the Thistles, but the latter inproved as the game went along. The final score was 10—5 in favor of the Victorias. The line-up of the teams was as follows: Victorias—Hemstock, Eydt, Garson, Davidson, Russell, Laufman, Hygham, Gordon, Hemstock, Thistles—J. Martin, Mephan, John Martin, Slater, Dumberry, Mephan, Paisley, Morris, W. Phelan.

Morris, W. Phelan.

In the second game between the Western Stars and Dominions, in the start it ern Stars and Dominions, in the start it looked as if the Stars were going to suffer their first defeat. A little strengthening on the batting line will make the Dominions a team that it will be hard to beat. The final score was 7—3 in favor of the Stars. The battery for the Western Stars were Keith and Lemmond; for the Dominions, Watt and Shipley. The line-up of the teams was as follows: Western Stars—McFarlane, Pemberton, Capell, Lemmond, Boswell, Moore, Osborne, Keith, Lemmond, Dominions— Watt, Slocombe, Shipley, Fee, Crawford, Sullivan, Leask, Male, Walters.

CYCLING

The bicycle races to be held at Maple Leaf Park on Labor Day are creating a great deal of interest in local and To-rento cycling circles, and Fred Skerrett, who will have charge of the events, claims that there will be big fields. The feature events will be mile and five-mile races and the local cracks will be races, and the local cracks will have a chance to see how they compare with the Toronto men, who have had a great deal of racing this season. Among the deal of racing this season. Among the entries from Toronto are Andews, Gol-den, Anderson, Morton, McDonald and McMillen.

A YOUNG HERO.

DR. COOK AT NORTH POLE.

Wires He Has Placed the Stars and Stripes on It.

Lieut. Shackleton Thinks It Quite Possible Cook Was There.

Duke of Abruzzi Thought Cook Was Man to Succeed.

San Jose, Cal., Sept. 2.-Mrs. J. Martz, wife of a Redlands capitalist, is said by ather Richard Gleeson, President of th Santa Clara College, to have received a ablegram yesterday from Dr. Frederick Polar expedition.

Mrs. Martz came to San Jose on Mon-day to enter her son as a student in the college. Yesterday, according to Father Gleeson, she telephoned him to tell him the news she had received. The message she read to him was as follows: "Have placed the Stars and Stripes on the North Pole."

She explained it was from Dr. Cook

She explained it was from Dr. Cook, and had been sent in accordance with an agreement between them that he would let her have the first news of his expedition.

SHACKLETON TALKS

pedition.

London, Sept. 2.—After reading a brief summary of Dr. Frederick A. Cook's account of his dash to the North Pole, Lieut. Ernest H. Shackleton, who recently led an expedition to the South Polar regions, said that nobody had any right to be skeptical. There was nothing in the explorer's statement but what was possible after he got within 200 miles of the Pole, and after reaching the Pole, and after getting back to Sodd Land, there was nothing to prevent Dr. Cook living with the Eskimos until this year. "Consequently," the lieutenant continued, "I do not think the time it took him to return is against his statement. The question is, what distance was he actually from the Pole when he started with his Eskimos? He must have done 12 miles a day to cover the distance given in 35 days. No other expedition has been able to do anything near this. In the north one or two miles a day is considered good progress, but Cook must have travelled over absolutely smooth ice, which is a condition that is unique."

Lieut. Shackleton's statement is based on the reports that Dr. Cook was at Cape Hubbard on March 17, and that be reached the Pole on April 21, 1908. Cape Hubbard is at the northernmost point of Grinnell's Island, and said to be between 300 and 400 miles from the Pole. To cover this distance in 35 days. Dr. Cook would have had to travel at the rate of from ten to thirteen miles a day.

Cook would have had to travel at the rate of from ten to thirteen miles a day DUKE OF ABRUZZI ON DISCOVERY Rome, Sept. 2.—The Duke of the Abruzzi, since his own Arctic expedition in 1900, has been keenly interested in Polar exploration, and before he left for the Himalaya Mountains he expressed Polar exploration, and before he left for the Himalaya Mountains he expressed the opinion that Dr. Frederick A. Cook was "perhaps the man destined to accom-plish this great feat," which may be the greatest achievement of the twentieth century." He based his opinion on what he heard of Dr. Cook's former journeys and his preparations for this one. In a letter received recently at Turin from the Duke, the royal explorer asked if anything was heard, and expressed the belief that he would surpass all his Youth of 24 Wanted to Marry Girl of 12 at Once.

Comes Home After Ten Years and Goes Almost Insane Over Girl.

"You Make Me Tired," Girl's Answer to Final Request.

New York, Sept. 2 .- Infatuated with his twelve-year-old stepsister, Stella Freedman, and almost insane because the girl refused to marry him, Arthur Winterstein, 24 years old, a baker of 13 West 112th street, shot her three times yesterday with a revolver purchased with money lent him by the girl's moth-er. He is locked up in the East 104th street station for the shooting and the girl is in a critical condition at the Har-girl is in a critical condition at the Harlem Hospital.

A year ago last March Arthur Winterstein came home after an unexplained absence of nearly ten years and found that his ather had married again and that the family were preparing to celebrate the eleventh birthday of his atepsister, Stella Freedman. Arthur, then 23 years old, thought that Stella was the prettiest girl he had seen in all his wanderings. She was large for her age, with dark hair and eyes and the clear, though dark, complexion of a child. He boughther a fine silk handkerchief for her birthday and from then on was assiduous in his devotion. So insanely jealous did he become that he begrudged every moment the girl spent apart from him and finally decided that they must marry at once.

Stella, however, was sensible. "For why should 1 marry with you?". she would say. "I want to be just a girl and have good times yet, like other girls. Sure I love with you, but I love with you like brothers and sisters, not like married peoples." That was when she took him seriously, sometimes she derided his pleadings, and then Arthur was almost crazy.

pleadings, and then Arthur was almost crazy.

Stella attended the public school across the street from her home at 1885. Lexington avenue. She expected to enter the fifth A grade this fall and was very proud of her advancement. In vacation time she helped her aunt, Mrs. Ella Reichard, in her candy shop, beneath her home. Monday night, she spent with her aunt because her own family was moving to 112th street, and yesterday a little before noon as she stood behind the counter Arthur walked in with her mother, Mrs. Winterstein. He had not seen Stella in twenty-four hours and was silent and moody. After walking about the shop nervously for a few moments he leaned across the counter.

"Stella, have you decided for sure whether you will marry me or not?" he asked.

"Oh, you go away, you make me tir.

whether you will marry me or not?" he asked.

"Oh, you go away, you make me tired," said the girl.

He looked at her for a minute without saying anything and then, picking up his hat, he said to Mrs. Winterstein; "I am tired to-day too, mother; let us go home." Then he waited for her to precede him out of the shop.

Just as he reached the street he pulled the revolver from his pocket and fired three shots in quick succession across the counter at the girl. She fell with a bullet in her breast, another in her shoulder and the third in her thigh. Mrs. Reichard tried to seize his arm and he fired his two remaining shots at her, but missed. Then he walked slowly out of the store, the crowd which the firing had gathered making way for him, and seeing Policemen Carr and Prazak, of the East 104th street station, walking toward him he went to meet them.

"Well, here I am," he said as they seized his arms.

Dr. Moshier took the girl to the Hardem Hospital and also attended to her mother and aunt, who were hysterical.

It was said at the hospital last night that Stella had a chance of recovery.
