LEGISLATIVE DEBATES.

PROPOSED VISIT OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.

Fig. 18. A. Mr., Louvezard—I rise bring to the notice of the control of the property of the control of the control of the property of the control of the con summer, to these North American Provinces.

Hon. Mr. Cotzs.—It affords me great pleasure to second the motion of the hon. member for the second district of Queen's County. As one of the representatives of the people, I will cheerfully co-operate to give an honorable reception to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales; and I am certain that the action on the part of the House will afford satisfaction to every person in the Colony. Were the whole year's revenue required for this purpose, I believe it would be freely given. It is not, however, by to be the whole year a revenue required for this purpose, by bettensive preparations on such an occasion that loyalty is best displayed, but by warmth of feeling. The Prince is not going to visit the Colony on account of money voted for his reception; and probably to present him with a loyal address would be quite sufficient. But this Island is not backward in these matters; look at the recention given last summer to General Williams, which with a loyal address would be quite sufficient. But this Island is not backward in these matters: look at the reception given last summer to General Williams, which was in several respects superior to those which he received in the neighboring Provinces. Though His Royal Highness only receive one equal to it, the Colony will not have acted dishonorably; but I feel assured that the people of this Island, which was named after the grandiather of the young Prince, will not be estisfied unless he receives a more noble reception than the General, and I believe they will rejoice to pay a considerable sum for the object. If there is sufficient time, and general notice can be given of his arrival, my opinion is that there will be few left in the country on that day. I repeat, that it is with pleasure I second the motion for the address Hon. Col. Grav—I was pleased to hear the remarks of is with pleasure I second the motion for the address Hon. Col. Garv.—I was pleased to hear the remarks of the hon. leader of the Opposition. They did honor alike to his head and to his heart. Though we may not be as wealthy as some of the other Colonies, yet we possess as loyal hearts. From what I know personally of the scions of royalty, I am certain that the young Prince will not expect much display. I think it improbable that he will reach this Island before the first of July or August, and the people in the country will then have time to come in and welcome to our shores the Heir Apparent to the British Throne. They will be able to give him several hearty cheers, which will afford him more pleasure than any lavish expenditure of money on his account.

Hon. Mr. Thourrox.—It is not necessary to say much any lavish expenditure of money on his account.

Hon. Mr. Thoanyon—It is not necessary to say much on this subject, because it is one on which we are all unanimous. When we consider that the Prince of Wales will probably be our future Sovereign, and the greatest Sovereign in the world, we should rejoice in the prospect of having an opportunity to do him honor. In New Branswick at one time they voted £10,000 towards his reception, but more I suppose they would not give; here, however, I am happy to learn, no particular amount is to be mentioned—no limitation made; but a sum sufficient named. We gave an honorable reception to General Williams, and surely when the een of our beloved Queenvisits our shores we ought to display our loyalty by giving him a greater than was accorded to eyen the "Hero of Kare." I will cheerfully vote for any sum which may be him a greater than was accorded to even the "Hero o Kars." I will cheerfully vote for any sum which may b onsidered necessary.

Hon. Mr. Penay—I shall willingly support the motion.

my portion of Her Majesty's dominions. There is marcely an individual in the Colony, I think, who will one consider the day on which the Prince arrives as a general holiday.

Hon. Mr. McAulay—With respect to the resolution before the Hones, I do not think it right to be altogether illent. Only a few years ago our Island was a howling rilderness, but by the energy of the Anglo-Saxon race it a what it is—a thriving Colony. We should be proud that we are so far advanced as to be considered worthy of visit from the Heir Apparent, who will probably are tags to give him a most hearty welcome. But the colony is small, and he might forget to visit us, unless a receives a special invitation by an address forwarded, her Majesty. It has been well remarked that the cyality of the people would afford him greater satisfaction an any lavish expanditure of money; but if any presentation is necessary to give him a suitable reception, I ill with pleasure support a resolution to place as large are at the disposal of the Government as may be renure support a resolution to place as large lisposal of the Government as may be re-a every confidence in the Executive, and se should give them this discretionary Stephen Girard and his Clerk.

Girard had a favorite clerk, one who every way pleased, and who at the age of twenty-one years expected Girard to say something of his future prospects, and perhaps lend him a helping hand in starting in the world, carefully avoiding the subject of his escape from innority.

At length after a tapse of some weeks, the clerk mustered courage enough to address Girard upon the subject.
