

Wales Goodyear Bear Brand Rubbers.

"CLIMAX BLIZZARD" Rubber Shoes are the handsomest shoes ever imported into this country. They will make you proud of your feet. Furthermore, they are the most economical, for, although they may cost a few cents more in the first instance, they are made to WEAR, not to WEAR OUT, and long after you would have sold cheaper goods for junk, you will still be wearing your CLIMAX BLIZZARDS, and wondering: "Will they last forever?"

SENSATIONAL ARRESTS.

DUTCH SEAMAN ASSAULTED 10 YEAR OLD GIRL — WALTER SNOW ARRESTED AS A DESERTER, SUPPOSED TO HAVE STOLEN $533.

Last evening a Dutch seaman, who only recently struck the town, was arrested charged with indecently assaulting a ten year old girl. The assault occurred at Bannerman Park yesterday. He will be dealt with this afternoon in private.

SERIOUS CHARGES.

Recently the authorities here received word from St. John, N.B., that Walter Snow, aged 21, a Newfoundland, was wanted on a charge that he had deserted the Royal Canadian Regiment and stolen the sum of $533. The Canadian authorities suspected that he had come this way and asked our people to keep a close watch for him. Snow reached the city a few days ago. He was first seen on Water Street the day before yesterday, and though not attired in military costume his actions aroused the suspicion of our local sleuths. Last night Const. Tobin arrested Snow at his home on suspicion. Snow admitted that he had deserted but denied any knowledge of the theft of the large amount mentioned. On being searched the sum of $225 was found on the accused, who was unable to satisfy the police as to how he got it. Inspector General Sullivan is communicating with the commanding officer of the Canadian regiment this afternoon and in all probability Snow will be sent to St. John, N.B., to be tried.

On our own police record Snow has an unenviable record for dishonesty. He left here shortly over two years ago after serving a long term of imprisonment for theft, and on previous occasions here figured in many larcenies and petty thefts.

Chicago Tax Dodgers
Stole $50,000,000.

First Step in the Prosecution of Prominent Men and Big Corporations.

Chicago, July 9.—All the books of the Board of Assessors which show the list of personal property and real estate of taxpayers in Cook County have been ordered to be produced before County Judge John E. Owens Friday by Assistant County Judge F. G. Plam.

This move was taken to aid the State Attorney in the prosecution of tax dodgers. It is said that individuals and corporations have defrauded the County and State out of $50,000,000 in taxes in the last eight years.

Subpoenas were served to-day on fifty persons, several of whom represent million dollar corporations, who are alleged to have conspired to defraud the County and State out of taxes.

The names of the individuals and corporations, according to Assistant State Attorney Berger, will be made public soon.

"Chicago and Cook county will be rid of tax dodgers through the criminal action which the State Attorney has started," said Mr. Berger. "Every person against whom charges have been preferred will be prosecuted. We are after the 'Big Fellows' first, and then we will get after the smaller offenders. Some of the men whom we are going to prosecute are very prominent. We will show in court, by their own testimony, that these defendants have wilfully conspired with attorneys and others to escape the payment of taxes."

Destructive Fire
at Kelligrews.

R. C. Church, Schoolhouse and Dwelling Razed to the Ground—Estimated Loss $8,000.

About 8 a.m. to-day fire broke out in the R. C. Church at Kelligrews, and before it could be got under control, the beautiful little edifice, the schoolhouse adjoining, and the residence of Mr. George Craig, nearby, were totally destroyed. It is not known how the fire occurred. Mr. James Nangle and a staff of carpenters were at work repairing the building, and about 8 o'clock, Mr. Nangle, who was on the roof attending to some shingling, heard a crackling sound which proceeded from the base of the tower where the fire is supposed to have started. As he was descending hurriedly from the scaffold the whole building burst into flames, and being fanned by a strong wind was soon demolished. The schoolhouse next caught and the sparks from each floating eastward, caught the residence of Mr. George Craig, about 100 yards distant. For a time the whole settlement was in danger, and several of the houses in the vicinity took fire but were promptly attended to. A bucket brigade was formed and amidst a scene of great excitement, all worked assiduously to confine the blaze to the smallest area possible. The little church at Kelligrews was a beautiful one, and was worth somewhere in the vicinity of $5,000. Estimating the value of the schoolhouse at $2,000, and the dwelling and other damages at about $1,000 the total loss to this little settlement will reach $8,000, and as far as we can ascertain very little insurance is carried. The only theory advanced as to the origin of the blaze is that one of the workmen must have placed his coat in the tower after having put a lighted pipe in the pocket. A large quantity of shavings were around, and the building itself was as dry as tinder.

Change for a Sovereign

"Fare, please!" said the conductor of a London tramcar one day to a passenger who was clinging to a strap.

The passenger took out his purse, looked through it, and produced a sovereign.

"It's the smallest I have," he said. "I can't change it," rejoined the conductor, gruffly. "If you expect to ride you ought to be prepared to pay."

"I am prepared to pay, sir. You're not prepared to give change—that's all."

"The company does not expect me to give change for gold. I couldn't do it, anyhow. I haven't a sovereign about me."

"Then what's to be done?" I've got to ride."

"You've got to pay for it if you do."

"I've offered to pay you."

"And I've told you I can't change a sovereign. You'll have to turn out something smaller than that or get off."

"I have told you, my friend, that I haven't anything smaller."

"Then get off."

With the fire of honest indignation blazing in his eyes the man turned to his fellow passengers.

"Gentlemen," he said, "it's a shame to put a man off a car when he has plenty of money to pay his fare, and is willing to pay it. If this conductor makes me get off, can I depend on your love of fair play to help me to see that justice is done? Just as sure that he puts me off I shall sue this company for damages, and I'll need you for witnesses."

"There's an easier way out of it than that," suggested a sympathetic man in a corner of the car, taking out his purse. "I'll lend you twopenny, and it doesn't make any difference whether you ever pay me or not."

"No, no," replied the other, struck by an idea. "But I shall be obliged if you will give me change for a sovereign. Any kind will do."

The sympathetic man in the corner counted out a further nineteen shillings and twopenny, handed it over, and took the sovereign in exchange. The passenger clinging to the strap paid his fare, rode a few streets further and got off.

And now the sympathetic man is hunting for him with blood in his eye and something heavy in his right hand coat pocket. That sovereign was a counterfeit.

Some People Say:

What is that
"Medicinal Brandy Sanator"?

WHY SANATOR?

WHY MEDICINAL?

The answer is indeed easy: Sanator (a Latin word) means: that cures. Medicinal means that the Brandy although being not a properly so-called "medicine" is composed with the best known growths for their tonic, digestive properties and of course can be used for medicinal purpose in the family like the Hospitals.

When you taste it, it is quite a revelation and people are accustomed to say: "I have never tasted so fine, so rich Brandy."

When you are sick, weak, suffering with a cold or with bad digestion, try the medicinal Brandy "Sanator" and you will be surprised of its good effects.

That can happen at every moment: ask to-day from your dealer a bottle of Medicinal Brandy "Sanator": it is prudent to have it always on hand.

Celebrated Norwegian Jigger

Fishermen should use these Jiggers and rig them with swivels same style as in Norway, then the Jigger acts like a minnow and when spinning attracts the fish, so that instead of jigging they really snap the Jigger and in this manner you never fail to catch them. Ordinary leads can be used.

but the Norwegian style seems more simple and easily made. Our fishermen should try this great Norwegian fish killer.
