

Terras Defeat Saints.

IN EXTRAORDINARY HOCKEY.

In a most extraordinary game the Terras defeated the Saints at the Prince's rink last night by a score of 7 goals to 4. In this game both the poorest and the fastest bits of play seen in the rink this season were made. Unfortunately, the fast bit lasted a bare five minutes and the poor hockey predominated during the other parts of the game. The quality of the game, however, was very inferior indeed, but although there was an entire absence of combination, some of the individual play was excellent. The referee was far too lenient during the game and at times allowed it to be taken completely out of his hands. As a result of this contributing to the poor quality of the game was the bad condition of the ice as a consequence of the recent mild weather. None of the players seemed to have a great deal of control over the puck and at the same time were not able to stand on their feet. Although play was at times of a fast and take nature, on the whole the Terras had by far the best of the game and during certain parts of it simply made runs around their opponents. Some splendid individual work was put in by Robertson whose skating nearly every time. Owing to the bad ice he was prevented from getting far most of the time, but he made several brilliant rink length runs only to be met by Rawlins who put up a fine goal game, and stopped some very difficult shots. Robertson was easily the Saints' best man and his efforts deserved to be rewarded with better success. Paterson also did good work for his team. He has improved greatly since his first game this season and his fair to be coming a first class hockeyist. Errol Munn had some very good tries and scored two of the goals gained by his side.

THE FIRST PERIOD.

Play was very scrappy from the start and during the first period was chiefly of a give and take nature, some good individual efforts being made by both teams. First blood fell to the Saints, who scored through "Cocky" Munn in goal. Before the period ended two more goals were scored, Robertson beating Rawlins with a stinging shot from the wing after coming up on the boards and Clouston again securing the lead for the Terras by putting the puck past Munn from a pass by Len Stick.

THE SECOND PERIOD.

As the Terras having things all their own way and before very long they had added another goal to their score through Clouston. The Saints then pressed for a bit and Rawlins was called upon to clear some very stiff shots. Before the period ended Clanning brought the Terras tally up to 6 goals.

THE THIRD PERIOD.

opened with a goal being scored for the Terras by Clanning. The Saints now began to buck up and Robertson scored their third goal after a fine rink length run. Then the fastest five minutes play seen in the rink for a long time began. From one end of the arena to the other the puck was carried along at a tremendous speed and the spectators thought they were in for an exciting finish but play soon slackened down and became as slow as ever. Very near the end the Terras began to press the Saints goal. At one time they were just on the point of scoring, when, buckling up his armour like a knight of old, "Cocky" sailed into the net, using his goal stick like a trusty lance, and scattering his opponents like chaff. From this on to all appearances the game was going to develop into a rough house, but fortunately the gong rang before this could happen. Shortly before full time, Errol Munn scored the last goal for his side. By the Terras winning the game the Fiddians become League champions for the second time in succession. They played consistently well throughout the series and easily deserved the success which they have gained. The Telegram congratulates Captain Parn and his team upon again gaining the laurels.

COMMENT ON THE GAME.

It is to be hoped that very few games will be seen in future quite like last night's.

During the game Hennebury was very badly knocked about and was unable to continue playing.

Jim Herder and "Dick" Johnston, who both play for the Methodist College team, did not do at all badly when their age and lack of experience are taken into consideration. Both will make very good hockeyists in time.

Very little interest will be taken in the remaining games of the season, as the championship is now settled. It is to be hoped, however, that the remaining games will be well contested, because after all, "the game's the thing" and the fact that the championship is already won should not make the slightest difference to the manner in which the rest of the fixtures are contested.

Some of the players complain of the absence of a light over the stairs leading to the dressing rooms and also of the lack of seating accommodation in the dressing rooms.

C. L. B. Cadets.

The Armoury has come through the recent bombardment with the big attack of the Blizzard Battalion's Winds and Snows in good shape. No damage from the enemy's forces have been reported to the C.O. A huge drift is at present entrenched in front of the Brigade's enthusiastic fighters of wind and weather going on duty last night. Avalon Battalion possesses very few fine weather or feather bed soldiers! Colour Sergt. Earle has applied to the Q. M. for a supply of trench tools and he will soon have the snow drift blocking the Armoury disappearing.

Last night Lieut.-Col. Goodridge, O. C., was on duty with Captain Norman Henry as Adjutant, with the following Officers: Major Geo. R. Williams, Captains Alex. Morris (Band), Lieuts. Lance Hayward, Phil. B. Rendell, W. R. Mott, Harold Hayward, Rev. Arthur Stirling, Duty Chaplain; Albert Perlin and A. King of the School Department, and Regt. Sergt.-Major Rowland Williams.

A Co. was inspected by Lieut.-Col. Goodridge, with Capt. Henry as A.D.C., and the Company was found to be in excellent shape. Rev. Arthur Stirling, Rector of St. Mary's and Duty Chaplain to the Brigade this week, was on parade and opened the night's work with prayer, as called for in the regulation, after which Rev. Stirling made a stirring address to the boys on Christian Manliness and the high principles of the Brigade, which should be always maintained in their every day life. Twelve recruits were then sworn in by the Chaplain and posted to their Companies.

After the parade was dismissed, a challenge hockey match was arranged between the teams captained by Lieut. Harold Hayward, known as "the tigers" and Captain Alex. Hennebury's team (an old Comrade, and an M.M. at that). Capt. Hennebury's team was known as "the Ranchers." A lively game ensued, in which victory went to the "Ranchers" by 5 goals to one of the "Tigers." Corp. Ewing was referee and gave good sound judgment. At the finish the sound of cheering resounded loud and long.

Captain Morris and his musical artists are busy practicing for his Easter Concert in the Methodist College Hall on Easter Monday. Rev. Lieut. Fletcher is also assisting him. Lieut. Albert Perlin is Concert Manager and Lieut. Phil B. Rendell is Concert Secretary.

Headquarters have sent a small supply of the new 1921 Pocket Books. We have the following titles: "The History of Newfoundland" listed officially as Vice-President of the Church Lads' Brigade Governing Body. Newfoundland Headquarters are pleased at the honour conferred upon the Newfoundland Regiment. We also note Admiral Viscount Jellicoe, G.C.B., O.M., G.C.V.O., is also a new Vice-President. Field Marshal Lord Grenfell is Governor and Commandant and Cadet Colonel T. Mastyn Foulkes, Chief Staff Officer, and Major the Marquis de Bury is Hon. Director of Physical Training. The Pioneer Company was organized by the late Colonel W. M. Gee in 1891 as a parochial effort, but the idea became so popular that the movement was welcomed by the Church as a means of retaining a hold on older lads and keeping them under a sphere of church influence. All commissions to Officers and Warrants are issued only by the governing body in London. The 1921 Pocket Book is a most interesting publication this year.

We are glad to note Bank Cashier Mott was busy Thursday night in the savings bank department. Several old customers of the bank made deposits whilst nine lads opened up a bank account of their own, thus making their first step to prosperity by having money out working for them by the way of making interest. Go to it lads! and the more you save, the more shall be added unto you in the shape of three per cent. interest.

All ranks were sorry to hear Major Raley, M.C., is still on leave and unable to take up brigade duty at headquarters. He is improving gradually and making a good fight to be fit very shortly again. He is now at Field Hall. The annual meeting of the Warrant N.C.O.'s Mess was held in their quarters after drill Thursday night. Regt. Sergt.-Major Rowland Williams, President, in the chair. Reports for the year were read by Secretary E. W. Peet and showed the finances in flourishing condition, having a good balance. Lieut. A. King was in charge, but the lads missed Lieut. R. Ash, who was absent on prebending business. Lieut. Geo. Hunt will soon have the improved heating system finalised, which will make

Shipwrecked Men Home.

Kyle Brings Captain and Crew of Cento.

Schooner Cento, Capt. W. J. Edgecombe, 30 tons net, owned by P. Templeman, Ltd., Bonavista, left Catalina on October 6th, 1920, with a cargo of dry codfish for Malaga, Spain, the run across the Atlantic from port to port being made in 26 days. On the return trip to Newfoundland the Cento left Malaga on January 3, putting into Gibraltar five days later, finally leaving that port on January 10th. On the sixth day out from Gibraltar the vessel sprung a leak and all hands were kept at the pumps continuously for eighty-seven hours, but the water began to gain with such rapidity that the pumps could not cope with the inrush and it was at length decided to abandon ship. Before doing so, however, distress signals were hoisted on the schooner, which were long were sighted by the steamer Massillon Bridge, which bore down on the leaking vessel and succeeded in taking off the whole ship's company. This was in latitude 39.04 N., longitude 13.02 W. The crew were landed at Gibraltar, from where they took passage to St. John, N.B., by S. S. Odra, arriving O.K. and taking passage by rail for St. John, at which place they joined

S. S. Kyle, arriving at St. John's last night.

The crew of the Cento had an experience which often falls to the lot of our hardy mariners. They were very fortunate in having got clear of the Cento so quickly as in another couple of hours they would have been compelled to take to the boats. Being about 400 miles from land when they abandoned ship, there would have been poor hope of their ever making shore with both wind and sea against them. Luckily the timely arrival of the Massillon Bridge saved the hazard into which the open boat attempt would have driven them. The treatment accorded Capt. Edgecombe and his men by the captain of the rescuing steamer was most hospitable, but nothing could exceed the kindness of the master and officers of S. S. Odra, who supplied the shipwrecked mariners with both money and clothing and were unremitting in their kind attentions. Capt. Edgecombe and his men are none the worse for their trying experience, but are glad to be home again.

Quidi Vidi Has Wreck.

Schooner Elizabeth Fearn Meets Disaster.

Campbell McKay & Co's schooner Elizabeth Fearn, 60 days out from St. John's, was wrecked on the rocks at Quidi Vidi at 5 a.m. to-day. The crew landed safely in a dory, saving most of their belongings. The vessel was commanded by Capt. Vatcher, and a crew of 8 men. This morning the owners were notified that the vessel was ashore, and the tug Ingraham was sent to render assistance. Nothing however could be done to save anything. The wind being high, the Ingraham did not get into where the vessel was stranded, but it could be seen that she was fast breaking up. Her bowsprit was in over the sand bar, her jumbo boom and topmasts broken off. The lee rail was under water and the vessel was caught by a rock, amidsthips on the starboard side. She was rolling somewhat when the Ingraham left and it appeared that in a few hours she would smash up. The vessel met a stormy passage from Bahia during which most of her canvas was lost. She ## was reported yesterday morning as passing Cape Race. The Elizabeth Fearn was built at Placentia, by Mr. Fairbrox and was 296 tons. She was the only local built vessel that passed British Lloyd's requirements, and was classed A 1 for 10 years from 1917.

The Open Fire.

Man is the only animal who has made friends with the fire, writes Dr. Henry Van Dyke.

All other creatures, in their natural state, are afraid of it. They look upon it with wonder and dismay. It fascinates them, sometimes, with its glittering eyes in the night. The squirrels and the hares come pattering softly toward it through the underbrush around the new camp. The deer stand staring into the blaze of the jack while the hunter's came creeps through the lily-pads. But the charm that masters them is one of dread, not of love. When they know what it means, or even when its small corner clearly to their most delicate senses, they recognize it as an enemy. Let but a trail of smoke drift down the wind across the forest, and all the game for miles and miles will catch the signal for fair and fight.

Many of the animals have learned how to make houses for themselves. The cabin of the beaver is a wonder of neatness and comfort, much preferable to the wigwam of his Indian hunter. The muskrat knows how thick and high to build the dome of his watertight cottage, in order to protect himself against the frost of the coming winter, and the floods of the following spring. The woodchuck's house has two or three doors; and a squirrel's dwelling is provided with a good bed and a convenient storehouse for nuts and acorns. The sportive otters have a toboggan slide in front of their residence; and mouse in winter makes a "yard," where they can take exercise comfortably and find shelter for sleep. But there is one thing lacking in all these various dwellings—a fire place.

Man is the only creature who dares to light a fire and to live with it. The reason? Because he alone has learned how to put it out.
