

The Mission to British Columbia.

It seems to us, after reading the correspondence relating to Mr. Edgar's mission to British Columbia, that the Government of that Province pursued a course which does not redound to their credit, and will not raise them in the estimation of the people of the Dominion. More than that, they acted discourteously toward the Dominion Government, and to Mr. Edgar, their duly accredited agent.

Mr. Edgar went to the Pacific coast with a letter from the Premier, in which it was stated that he was specially sent out to confer with the Local Government on questions lately agitating the public mind in that Province, and particularly to ascertain their views on the construction of the Pacific Railway.

Then follows an enquiry from the Provincial Government for particulars of the policy of the Dominion Government in regard to the construction of the railway, and a reply by telegram from the Secretary of State at Ottawa, that it was impossible to commence with the construction of the road until the surveys were completed.

The Local Government in a note to Mr. Edgar inform him that they cannot confer with him officially, or discuss the proposals made, for the reason that they did not consider him properly accredited as the Agent of the Dominion Government.

Arrest of one of Scott's Murderers. From the Manitoba Free Press, May 30. It having become known that Andre Nault, one of the firing-party at the Scott murder, had returned to his home, a few miles up the Red River, for the first time since the flight of the banditti in 1870, it was determined by the authorities to effect his arrest.

Intercepted here he returned and made a dash for liberty through the front door, but was promptly floored by one of the specials. As he made such strenuous efforts to escape, and refused to submit to arrest, it was determined to handcuff him. Upon commencing this operation, however, some four or five men, sons of the prisoner, and others, attacked the sheriff's party with the intention of rescuing Nault. Two others, young men, ran off for the purpose of procuring assistance from neighboring houses for the Nault party.

This arrest is an important one, Nault having been, during the troubles, one of those who were particularly active in their brutality to the prisoners, and who is thought by some to have been the officer in command of the firing party at the murders.
