SPRINGWATER SCHOOL WAS ROBBED AND DAMAGED

$10 Reward for Information Leading to Conviction of the Thief

Some thief, maliciously inclined, broke into the Springwater school house sometime between Saturday noon and Monday morning and besides stealing a quantity of school materials did a great deal of damage to the school equipment. The robbery was discovered by Mrs. Smith, the teacher, Monday morning. The school's newest map was torn down and one bracket broken; a map of Australia was ripped from the wall; 28 hooks, on which the pupils hang their hats and clothing, were broken off; ink was spilled all over the floor; the strap was cut in several places; 21 red ribbons were taken; a roll of mounting paper is gone; the Roll of Honour was torn down; pens and pencils were scattered; in the tool house everything is confusion and many things destroyed, half a dozen flags taken and the teacher's knife stolen.

The trustees are anxious to find the culprit who would do such a contemptible trick and are offering a reward of $10 for information leading to the conviction of the proper party or parties. This kind of thing is getting altogether too common and it is the duty of any citizen who knows any information concerning the affair to inform the trustees at once, so that a stop may be put to such practices.

CREAMERY BUTTER COM- MANDEERED

Great Britain and her Allies have been short of butter for several months, and the Canada Food Board have been asked to take steps to relieve the condition which has borne heavily upon the people of Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium. The pressure upon cargo space has been heavier since the United States has entered the war, and began moving her troops across the Atlantic. Ships are needed for soldiers and munitions of war, as well as for food stuffs. The main food stuffs naturally receive the first consideration.

To-day in Great Britain one-half pound butter or margarine per month, per person, is all that the supply allows, as compared to the creamery butter consumption of two pounds per person, per month in Canada.

The Canadian Government on the recommendation of the Minister of Agriculture and the Canadian Food Board, at the request of the British Ministry of Food, for increased shipments has commandeered all the creamery butter made between September 30th and November 9th, inclusive, in the Provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec for export to Great Britain and Allies.

This does not mean, however, that Canadians need to be panic-stricken, nor does it mean that there is the least justification for hoarding or profiteering. There are in storage, unaffected by this commandeering order, 20,000,000 pounds of creamery butter made before September 30th. Dairy butter is not affected by the Order. The average cost to gold storage Companies for butter now in store is about 44 cents a pound. The profits of Storage Companies selling to wholesalers are limited by the Canada Food Board Order No. 45 of June 5th to 4 per cent. and of whole-salers selling to retailers to 10 per cent. over cost delivered to warehouse.

The present supply of creamery butter in storage together with dairy butter produced during the next six weeks will be quite sufficient to fill the ordinary demands of the Canadian public.
