FIVE MONTHS

Aged Overcoat Thief Sentenced-Other Police Court Items.

In sentencing George Penny this morning on two charges of stealing overcoats from the G. T. R. depot, Police Magistrate Love said that the offense was a more serious one than thieving from a house, as it was more difficult to restore stolen property to the owners when they belonged to the traveling public. He was disposed to make an example of the offender, but taking into consideration the prisoner's advanced age and the fact that he was probably driven to his crime by want, the sentence would be a lenient The police magistrate then sentenced Penny to five months' imprisoment at hard labor on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently. Denver, Col., Nov. 6.—One policeman was killed and three were injured in a fight at a politing place in the lower part of the city early today.

At 7 o'clock Special Policemen Chas. F. Carpenter and Green were sent to Twenty-second and Larimer streets to supervise the opening of the polls. Several special deputies were present. Orders had been issued by the fire and police board to refuse to recognize the authority of the deputies, and to arrest any who in any way interfered with the police. Under these instruc-tions, Officer Campenter ordered the deputies to retire 100 feet from the poliing place. Hampton Jackson (colored) resisted, and drawing a revolver, began shooting at Carpenter. Policeman Green came to the rescue of his companion, striking Jackson on the head and arm, fracturing his skull, and treaking his arm. The blow broke the officer's oak club. Shooting by the deputies became general, and the special police, who were armed only with clubs, were at a disadvantage.

Alt this moment City Detective Carberry ran up and opened fire with his revolver. Deputy Sheriff John G. Branford (colored), fell at the first shot. A Tarte says he will be defeated, and the score of shots were fired by deputies, and Detective Carberry and Deputies Stewart Harvey and Richard Harriman (both colored) were shot. Special Policeman Green was also shot.

WAS A MASTERSTROKE

Conservatives Might as Well Attack the Ten Commandments.

Speaking of the preferential tariff. and the Conservative opposition to it, Hon. James Young, of Galt, says: It is almost universally recognized as the cleverest stroke of Canadian statesmanship since confederation took place. They might as well attack the Ten Commandments. measure is an admitted master-stroke both from a Canadian and imperial point of view. Combined with Sir frid Laurier's graceful bearing and eloquent speeches at the Queen's jubilee, it completely captured the heart of honest John Bull, secured the cancelment of the German and Belgian treaties, and a voluntary but real preference for our products in Great Britain, which is the principal cause of remarkable commercial revival the which has taken place in all our great producing industries.

But, says Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Wilfrid Laurier should not have given the motherland a preference for nothing-he should have demanded and could have obtained a preferential duty of at least 5 per cent in favor Canadian products entering the British markets. This is oft-repeated rubbish, as the statements of Salisloury, Devonshire, Rosebery, Cham-berlain and others prove. To pretend that Great Britain would set aside her policy of free trade, under which immense commerce has quadrupled, and tax her people 5 per cent, on the $900,000,000 worth of foodstuffs they annually import, that Canada might make a 5 per cent gain on the $70,000,000 worth they take from us; in other words, to pretend that Great Britain would her people $45,000,000 annually, that we should make $3,500,000, is too preposterous for anyone but Sir Charles in the heat of an election. To take Great Britain by the throat with such a fatal blow on Canada, and raise an issue which Lord Salsibury clearly sees might rend the empire asunder: and I denounce it as one of the most dangerous and disloyal propositions ever made by any politician in this

CASUALTIES IN TORONTO

Visitor From Picton Crushed to Death -A Number of Persons Less Fingers by Explosions - Accident at the Armories.

Toronto, Nov. 6 .- The home-coming of the soldiers was attended by many minor accidents. There were no fatalities, however, along the line of march, but a fatal accident occurred to an elderly lady named Miss Eliza Augusta Magee, a member of the household of Rev. Mr. Shorey of Picton, who came to the city on Sunday last to spend the holiday with her sister. Miss Magee, in attempting to cross Jarvis street, came in contact with two rigs going in opposite directions, and was knocked down and run over. She died in a few minutes.

A "cannon" cracker exploded in the hands of Thomas O'Rourke, a deaf mute, of 13 Soho street, during the celebration in front of the city hall last night, and severely injured Mrs. Schubart and three others, who were standing in the crowd. O'Rourke's right hand was badly lacerated. Mrs. Schubert's face was badily cut, requiring twelve stitches.

Charles Taylor, employed at the Queen's Hotel, was walking on Yonge street, when he picked up a large cannon fire-cracker, which exploded in his hand, the force of the explosion blowing off half the thumb and the tops of three fingers of his left hand, and inflicting an ugly gash in the palm of his right hand. The second finger was amputated, but an effort will be made to save the thumb.

George Shaughnessy, of 318 Parliament street, has broken an ankle. When the celebration was at its height in the armories Shaughnessy climbed to the top of one of the large windows. In descending he slid down a rope, and the friction burned his hands so badly that he lost his hold and fell to th ground, a distance of about 30 feet.
Miss Ethel Threlkeld, 17 years old, who resides with her parents at 146 Close avenue, is lying in a precarious condition at the Emergency Hospital. While waiting for a car she was struck on the head by a heavy timber, which feil from the top of St. Lawrence market building, and her injuries may

An Appeal to Englishmen.

The Toronto Globe says: A circular, of which we may be sure the Conservative party will be ashamed when it resumes its normal calm, has been cir culated among the members of the Sons of England within the past two days. It professes to be an extract from a speech made by a Mr. Vipond. It contains most of the slanders that have been uttered against Mr. Tarte One sentence is sufficient to give the keynote of this essentially false document. "How can the policy," it says, "of a party be national when the second in command of the party boasts he is a foreigner, and likes not Eng-If this were delivered as the opinion of some chance stumper merely it would deserve but little notice. but when it is taken up by Conservative candidates and distributed among Englishmen it becomes a much graver matter. Among its declarations is this: "In a British country one language only, and that the language of the nation—English." Does the Con-servative party hold this view? We hope that no Englishman who believes in fair play will be influenced by this dark-lantern circular, issued at the last moment of the campaign. The attitude of the Laurier government towards the motherland is best exhibited by the preferential tariff, which it must be presumed the Conservatives would wipe out if they are true to their many declarations. Englishmen in Canada could scarcely persuade their kinsmen at home that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the enemy of the empireon the contrary, many of the English newspapers have said that he is today the most prominent figure in the great movement for closer relations between its various parts.

Rev. Principal MacVicar's Opinion.

Rev. Principal MacVicar, of the Presbyterian College, when asked to express an opinion on the method employed by the parties responsible for the inflammatory racial documents, said such tactics were most despicable. The attempts to excite the race feeling were much to be deplored. There were passages in Canadian history where the record of French-Canadians was most patriotic. Take, for instance. the dates of 1776, 1812, and, lastly, 1900, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as everybody should acknowledge, had acted as rapidly as he could in getting th

THE CONSERVATIVES

Run a Special From Montreal to Terento.

Toronto, Nov. 6 .- To counteract, if possible, the effect of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's dash through Western Ontario, the Conservatives of Montreal sent a special train from that city to Toronto yesterday on a similar mission. But, like many another imitation, it fell short of the original in many respects. It may be that short notice accounted for small attention to the Conservative "flyer," but the fact remains that with a few exceptions the attendance at any of the twelve stops did not exceed 150. Something went wrong with the list of speakers, but out of an imposing array announced to start from Montreal, only four turned up: Messrs. Donald MacMaster, Q.C., George G. Foster, Q.C., Hon. FATAL ACCIDENT AT INGERSOLL Ingersoll, Nov. 5.—A fatal accident occurred on the G. T. R. track near the second crossing west of the station late last night, the victim being Hugh McConville. He was going home be-tween 12 and 1 o'clock, and it is thought he was struck by a freight train going east about 12:40 o'clock. The remains were found on the track by a brakeman on another freight, which came down from London about 2 o'clock. The deceased's watch stopped at 12 o'clock, and this is taken as an indication that it was the train mentioned that struck him. The coroner decided that an inquest was not necessary. Deceased was about 36 years of age, and leaves a wife and two small children.
