DIRECTORS' REPORT. The directors made the following re-

Gentlemen,-Your directors have the honor of presenting their 36th annual report, being in a position to congratu-late the members on another successful year. Notwithstanding the fact that the Thursday of exhibition week was very wet, resulting in a falling off of almost the entire receipts for that day, which considerable improvement was made in the sheep and swine buildings, better accommodation being provided for the attendants, needed repairs were also deed. C. Dewar, of Kertch, asked for hundred shrubs and trees were planted throughout the grounds, and the walks and drives cleaned up and straightened out. It is very desirable that the grounds should be still further beautified, more particularly that portion lying to the front of the general offices. Possibly under the regime of the newly-appointed park commissioner the city council will make some provision towards this end. The exhibits generally were of a very high order. There was the usual fine display of live stock, the Western taking the lead in this particular. All other described to the display of live stock, the western taking the lead in this particular. All other products, satisfactory to their representations are stocked to the control of the departments were well represented by most excellent exhibits. The usual success attended Monday, our opening day. Extending the exhibition to include Friday night was also a decided success, especially so this year on account of Thursday's rain.

Your directors have had the question Association notified the board it would of the construction of a new dairy build-ing under consideration. They have con-cluded that a new building is necessary, and as soon as Government assistance, which is required, is obtained, the work will be commenced. They trust that something will be accomplished this year. The space now occupied by dairy products can then be used for the extension of the horticultural and agri-cultural departments.

Death has again broken into our ranks, and we regret very much to have to record the death of the late Mr. R. Shaw-Wood and Mr. Isaac Waterman, Both gentlemen took an active part in

The accounts have been audited by Mr. G. F. Jewell, F.C.A., and his certificate is appended.

The thanks of the association is due to those who have contributed to the funds and donated special prizes.

The board wishes to acknowledge with They are also sensible of the assistance they have received from the various railways in granting low rates, and for special train service for the conveyance of visitors to and from the exhibition.

We wish to place on record the satisfactory manner in which the officers have fulfilled their duties.

Reid, Mr. Carrothers W. Jones.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
