STREET RAILWAY OBJECT TO GRADE OF NEW LINES

Company Notify City They Will Not Be Responsible for Service.

RICHMOND ST. GRADE IS BEING CUT DOWN

Cheapside and William Street Grades Are Also Said To Be Very Bad.

The London Street Railway Company is taking serious objection to the manner in which it has been compelled to construct the new lines in the north end of the city, and in a recent communication to the city engineer, the management of the road denies any responsibility should it be found impossible to maintain an efficient service during the coming win-

The difficulty arises from the grade for the new lines furnished by the city engineer's department, by reason of which the rails are laid in a trough in the centre of the road. This condition is apparent on both Cheapside and William streets, where the new north end etxensions have already been laid, and according to those in charge the works on Richmond street north, where the Wellington is being straightened out, the tracks will be from eight to ten inches lower than the crown of the road.

People Are Incensed.

The management of the company has been informed that the trouble will be overcome when plans for grading the street are carried out, but citizens of the north end, who are interested declare that there has been no occasion for the reduction of the grade, and that several thousands of dollars will be wasted.

The intention of the city engineer is said to be to cut down the surface of Richmond street from eight to ten inches in order to bring the grade to the level at which the street railway company has been compelled to work. This may be proper in the opinion of the city engineer, those who are inter-ested declare, but it is difficult from the point of the layman to understand why a road that was just reconstructed a year ago and that furnished practically the only satisfactory main artery from London to the north, is now to be destroyed without apparent rea-

The company were informed, he said, that the road will then be found satisfactory. Howhave to be done in order to make a first-class service possible. The intersecting streets on both Cheapside and William streets are very much higher than the company's tracks, which are now furnishing a sort of storm water

Neither of the two streets named have any surface at present, and should any effort to improve the thoroughfare be made, it will probably be necessary to excavate a great deal of the soft mud before a hard road can be built. There was no crown on the road before the work was commenced and although the opportunity was afforded, it is claimed that conditions the proposal of the majority to extend have been infinitely worse by creating the causes for divorce would, if ac-

Tuesda night the Grand Opera House was filled by a large assemblage composed of local musical and social circies, and both artists were accorded enthusiastic applause, being obliged to respond with frequent encores.

Madame's voice gives considerable evidence of the strain necessarily resulting from years of operatic work, yet it is still powerful and sweet to quite a degree. She appears to best advantage in her German and French songs, her numbers last night being rendered with wonderful expressive-ness. In selections like "Ich Grolle Nicht," by Schuman, and Schubert's 'Der Erlkonig," her voice seemed displayed at its best, and after her three

French, Nordica was encored repeatedly. Two of her songs in English open, and when the water that runs were compositions of Mr. Albert D. Jordan, of this city, and Madame's pretty insistence of his sharing the applause with her, elicited much pleased comment throughout the house.

Home for Christmas.

This year there is an almost unprecedented rush of business to the old country : . the Christmas season, Atlantic steamship lines will be taxed to the utmost to accommodate those contemplating the spending of the Yuletide season across the water. To meet the demand for accommo dation the Canadian Pacific Hailway Company will have two steamers leaving St. John, N. B., on Dec. 13: the large and palatial Empress of Britain, also a steamer chartered of the Allan Line and bearing a very enviable reputation as to speed and fitness-the Grampian. such steamers as these the company expects to give its patrons much better service than could notherwise be

Space on these Christmas sailings is being booked up very rapidly, and Mrs. Charles Talbot, of 30 Askin street, any intending passengers would do well to order berths as early as possible, thus insuring a comfortable trip to Britain for Christmas.

Berths, tickets, and general in-street, on Saturday, Nov. 15, and after-wards on the first and third Fridays of the month.
