ROSSLAND. The shipments of ore and matte combined last week represent nearly 50 standard car loads, or six train loads, allowing eight cars to a train load. There were seven cars of matte alone. This were seven cars of matte alone. This matte is worth, on an average, one dollar a pound, and there were 280,905 pounds. The shipments of matte the week before reached 364,000 pounds. Adding, therefore, the shipments of the week before we have shipments of the week before we have the magnificent total of $648,000 worth. These are by far the heaviest matte ship-ments ever made by the Trail smelter, and they constitute another triumphant proof of the splendid progress being made by this establishment. Every pound of matte made by the Trail smelter is the product of Rossland ore, and shipments like these must be very impressive testimony of the wealth of our mines.—Miner.
