Thursday Morning, Nov. 7, 1919.

The League ball players have taken the record for striking out.

If you have no other news for giving thanks, give thanks for being permitted to live.

Baron is not big a man as the Lord Mayor in London. He was not allowed to give his street parade.

The elections held in the ten States and two Territories on Tuesday developed in great amount of revelation in popular feeling.

The Toronto Globe says it takes all kinds of credits to keep the world moving. This is a commendable excuse for the existence of the Globe.

Japan has sent two of its police officers to London to study English methods. The gas of Jack the Ripper will probably be kept in the background.

Diphtheria is very prevalent in Quebec city, and it is believed to come from the milk supplied by certain dealers. This should not be shared water to remedy.

The Mashed Potato has a good word to say for the Marmos in the Northwest. There are a number of Marmos in Ontario who make very good citizens.

Give thanks for every blessing you have. Give thanks for life, for health, for clothes. And for Thanksgiving day.

Russian women are hereafter to be debarr'd from practicing medicine all they have received their former ones. This is not calculated to render the profession very popular.

The London Advertiser says that the Canadian shipper to the United States pays duty. This is a reiteration of the free trade theory that the commerce have all levels.

The Brockville Recorder of Tuesday quotes C. F. F. as saying on that day that the Local House will not be dissolved till after the next session. As that case it will be a short session.

One hundred thousand people in North Dakota are said to be on the verge of actual starvation. This is not a very cheerful prospect of the opening of winter in such an inhospitable climate.

The Montreal Recorder, who is a strong supporter of the Local Government, says there is something which "badly wants reforming" in the Education Department. Perhaps it is a Nelsonian error.

Benson, known in England as "The Fishes Plunger," talks of coming to America to lecture. His main claim to distinction is his rapidity with which he can spend money, but by other kind of fool could do that if he had the wherewithal.

The Washington Post has started a subscription to build a monument to the mother of the "Father of his country." If the money does not flow in more freely than it did for George's monument, generations yet unborn will be asked to complete the work.

The experiments of placing ladies on the School Board has not been an unqualified success in New York. Two have served during the past term, and a number of teachers petition against their reappointment, on the ground that they are not so properly interested and general education.

Capt. Kemp calls to call the World the song "Baba Aida" was written, not by Burns, but by the Scottish poet Hoger, the Kirk Shepherd. The Captain says that he frequently heard it sung by the post-boys, and that Mrs. Wilkinson, who lived three doors from his house in Wilton Crescent, Glasgow, and that she treated it as a comic song.

A correspondent writes to the Globe concerning the difference in makes to the Globe which is to be made. "Now, it contends that Harvey, the wife and child murderer, should be treated as a lunatic and not as a homicidal criminal. Harvey gave way to his evil temper, and sought to gratify his selfish pride by putting out of the way all who might be called upon to suffer degradation by reason of his detection in malfeasance. He willfully broke the laws of God and man, and must have deserved his mindfully that this course was the lesser of two evils. He had lots of time to consider; but time only strengthened his horrible purpose. It is not many years since, in a scuffle with a poor hard-bitten mechanic, the proprietor of The Globe received a blow in the eye. There was never anything to prove that the unfortunate man really meant to kill George Brown, who, being a man of a high-spirited temperament, so doubtless, instantly assailed the man who threatened him, and in the scuffle the man was discharged with wounds which after many days proved to be fatal effects, to which, perhaps, treatment and the patient's vitality contributed not a little. The poor fellow, I have always thought, was the victim of a judicial murder, though for all that we do not know. But I have every day hoping that The Globe would intercede for him. It did not."

Thanksgiving. Canada has much to be thankful for. Not alone are there signs of prosperity manifest all through her borders, but the outlook is hopeful for the future. A young country just erected upon its majority, we have within our borders all the elements of prosperity—all the essentials of a great nationality, and with these also we have the public spirit, the determination to make the most of our opportunities to create and build up a country of which we shall all be proud, so that a passport to the world over shall be.

Is It a Canadian? Why should we of this country revel and prostrate ourselves before any other nationality? Why do we claim to be the world that we are dependent upon our neighbors? All the necessities of life are produced within the boundaries of the Canadian Dominion, and it is to-morrow out of our all outside sources we should not only not be in any discomfort, but we should be able to enjoy the many privileges we enjoy as citizens of a largely self-sufficient nation.

At Toronto the special feature of the day, after the church services, will be the review and sham battle at High Park. The Brandon and Hamilton regiments will be welcomed by the various military bodies of the city, and a special attractive display will be made. This is a peculiarly appropriate way of celebrating the day, being calculated as it is to bring out the best traits of the young men and to inspire

1600 MEN IN BATTLE ARRAY.

The Great Sham Fight That is to Occur To-day.

THE BATTALIONS THAT ARE TO TAKE PART.

They Will Meet in the Bush Between the Railway and Bloor-street.

AGREAT DAY FOR THE CITIZEN SOLDIERS.

Major-General Sir Fred Middleton to be the Umpire in Chief.

The Minister of Militia to View the Action—The Dufferin Rifles and 13th of Hamilton will be an Attractive Feature of the Engagement—The Home Co's and Their Positions—A Battle of Musketry and a Boom of Cannon—A Plan of the Battle Grounds.

Like to hear the Grenadiers. The boys I mean, who sweep the West. Stand up and shout of shouts of cheer. With kneeling eyes and martial crest.

Of fearful scenes that they're gone thro'. Of things they did and didn't do. And it is at Fish Creek, too, by god! And it is at Fish Creek, too, by god!

Like the fish of honest pride. I like to mark their cocky air. I like the broad and swelling breast. To forage out on a hair of the Garrison's wife's waist.

You talk to them of Col. Kilt's Bill. The answer they'll give you will thrill. "Believe me, we were at Batoche. And it is at Fish Creek, too, by god!"

And when they climb the golden stairs. And meet the men of Waterloo. And they begin to tell of how. They made old Bonaparte look blue.

The boys will simply walk a while. Then answer with a military smile. "Believe me, we were at Batoche. And it is at Fish Creek, too, by god!"

—The Khan. Oct. 3, 1919.
