THE AMUSEMENT WORLD.

There will be two new faces seen in the Coghlan Company at the Grand Opera House next Monday evening. Among the members of the company who are to appear in Sardou's great play, "Diplomacy," are two ladies who, although they have never previously played in Toronto, have earned great reputations in Europe and the United States. Miss Sadie Martinot's name is known in Canada, though the present is the first season of her appearance here. She has appeared in opera both in England and the United States. Last season she starred in a framstization of some of the incidents of the celebrated mistress of Louis XIV., Mme. Pompadour. It is only a few years ago that she was made a big offer by Coquelin Pere to support him during his South American tour as leading lady. Mme. Van Trantman, though of maturer years, has made a tremendous reputation in the leading Vienness theatres. She has also starred through America in some if not all of the leading female ro.es, playing them in both the Austrian and English languages. As with Miss Martinot, so with Mme. Trautman, though they have acted for years in the United States the present time is their first attempt across the border.

Moore's Musee. Grand Opera House,

A lot of good things are in store for the pat-rons of this popular resort next week. The attractions in both departments are of the highest order. The performance in the theatre is a little out of the general run of entertainment usually given in this departmen and one that is certainly a novelty when presented it a mixed of the peace edy.

men and one that is certainly a novelty when presented in a muses.

Manager Moore, who is now in New York city, witnessed the performance of Zanfortta's Spectacular Pantomime Company, and so meritorious was it that Mr. Moore concluded to engage the company if possible to appear in his musee circuit. He succeeded in engaging the company, which will positively open here on Monday next. Zanfortta has a wide-pread reputation as a pantomimist. He has served for the past eight years with the Hanlon Brothers' great spectacular production. Zanfortta will produce next week "The Magic Queen," which will be made resplendent with elegant trick scenery and gyrgeous costumes. In the curio hall will be seen for the second time in Canada Prof. Giovanni's troupe of trained cockatoos and parrots. This troupe of birds are probably the most intelligent members of the feathered race and the professor will also entertain in a few tricks of magic.

Me and Him, the two extremes, will give a funny burlesque boxing match, portraying as near as possible the late Sullivan and Corbett encounter. Me is 20 years old and weighs 435 pounds, and Him is 20 years old and weighs 110 pounds. Sig. Curdano, the one-man orchestra, will also be seen in the

There should Be Crowds To-day. Another enthusiastic audience assembled in the Pavilion last evening to hear the "Black Patti" and the other artists who are with her. The merit of this concert company has been put to the test during the week and has been found by the critical audiences to possess the genuine ring. During each performance the "Black Patti" and Princess Dolgorouky, violiniste, were recalled again and again. Mr. Isadore Moquist, pianist, has won a place in the hearts of music-loving peoole by his cultured performances, and Mr. Fred Warrington lost none of its popularity in the singing of the swinging songs he rendered last night. There will no doubt be an immense house at the matinee this afternoon, when the price to all parts of the Pavilion will be put down to 25c. In addition to the artists above mentioned Miss Denby, elocutionist, will take part in the program. She will recite Schiller's scene between Mary Stuart and Queen Elizabeth.

The play opens Monday for the week with only one matinee, which will be given on Saturday. The comedy deals with country people, and its scenes are laid in a small village in Vermont, except the second act, which is three scenes and takes place in and about Washington, D.C. The old farm scene in the first act, a realistic river scene in the second and the sensational sawmill scene in act third are the principal scenes.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTMENT IN REAL Estate in Toronto depends as much upon locality as anything else. Life is too short to have to wait 20 or 20 years for outside property to double or treble in value while choice central property often does that in 10 or 15 years. We can mention corners in the business centre that have doubled in value within the last five years, and will go on doubling because they cannot be duplicated.
