But, that the Reader might have some Idea of these People, I thought it necessary to subjoin the following Succinet Account of the Principals in this Confederacy. their Tributaries, Dependents, and Allies: And the more so, as it is neither extant in Print, nor is this Part taken Notice of so fully in the Manuscript History above-mentioned. It was communicated by a Gentleman of good Understanding and Probity; one who is very well skill'd in the Indian Affairs, * adopted into one of their Tribes, is of their Council, and their constant Interpreter at the Philadelphia Treaties, .to a Friend of his, who sent it to his Correspondent here.

They have generally been stiled the Five Nations of Indians, bordering upon Pensilvania and New-York; but, fince the Arrival of the Tuscarora's from Carolina, they are called the Six Nations. An Account of whom is as follows,

1. The Conymkos or Mohawks; the first Promoter of the Confederacy. + He is stilled in the Council of all the Nations, Dicarihoagan, i. e. President or Eldest.

2. The

The Indian Idiom; they always stile a whole Nation

in the singular Number.

^{* &}quot; It is customary among them to make a Compleof ment of Naturalization into the Five Nations; and " confidering how highly they value themselves above all others, it must be accounted no small one.—I had this ⁶⁶ Complement from one of their old Sachems, which he " did by giving me his own Name: He had been a nota-66 ble Warriour; and he told me, that now I had a 66 Right to assume to my self all the Acts of Valour he " had performed." C. Colden's History of the Five Nations, M. S.