

about myself, in a frank, desultory way, without indefensible clap-trap or any chicken-hearted feeling about egotism. Said fiend has been jailed, and such advice will hardly be given me again — but if it should be, I will promise not to heed it.

THE END.

realize they
n Canadian
ream.
t, I thought
since awak-
perhaps, to
t aboard the
ers came in
warned them
a half. One
ways made it
m. And we
ot off at Bur-
ked, to save arting. Two ively. They owboys should something I

and I took his id to him, "I have fared as
gularly enough,
took the checks
and seeing me
en I started for t there, and not
m I knew, how a the ten days I

igation of a mis-
omething openly