AND BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH.

CLOTH, $1.25.

This is a work that will take its place among the choicest volumes of sacred literature. The mechanical execution is excellent, and reflects credit upon the great publishing house under the control of the Methodist Book Steward. The sketch of the life of Dr. Douglas has been prepared by his daughter, Miss Mina Douglas, and is one of the most tender, human, discriminating and beautiful biographies we have ever read. The Sermons and Addresses are all characteristic of the peerless preacher. The pulse of genius throbs through each discourse; they are full of great thoughts clothed in the most brilliant rhetoric, inspiring alike to intellect, conscience and heart, and glowing with a holy fire which kindles every spiritual aspiration and desire. This book will take a foremost place among the published sermons of this day and century, and is a worthy monument of this great and gifted orator, whose name is a household word in both hemispheres."—Rev. Hugh Johnston, D.D., in Acta Victoriana.

THE SINGING EVANGELIST.

THE GREAT REDEMPTION.

CONTAINING 344 HYMNS.

Paper, 25c. ; $2.50 per doz. Cloth Limp, 35c. ; $3.60 per doz.

A warm welcome has been given this new collection of Sacred Songs. Two-thirds of the contents is entirely new music. For the balance there are some of the old popular pieces like "A Song of Trust," "Like the Music of a Fountain," "Oh, Tolling Bells," "Will He Not Come Back," and others that have proved so popular where introduced by the Whyte Brothers. A large number of the grand old hymns are set to new music. The collection altogether is likely to prove even more popular than either "Songs of Calvary," or "Sing Out the Glad News."
