The extension of God's kingdom in Africa. Psa. cvii. 13, 14 ; Isa. ii. 20.

FRENCH WORK.

Report of Madame Morin, East End Bible-woman.

During the month of February I have not visited any new families, only those which I previously had on my list (owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever).

Among these people, I placed two New Testaments and a number of tracts. These tracts, I think, do as much good as all that we can say or do, for the people are always so pleased to receive these little stories, as they call them ; they find them so interesting, and some of them will even read one of these tracts before reading in the Bible.
