

- Since the late 1980s, CIDA has funded 10 Industrial Cooperation Program projects in the industrial, energy, fisheries and sanitation sectors, for approximately $1.5 million.
- Four research activities dealing with agriculture, community resource mapping, industrial processing and engineering are currently being supported by the International Development Research Centre, with a total grant of $790,000.
- Total Canadian overseas development aid for 1994-95 through all channels, including multilateral agencies and international financial institutions, is estimated at $20.41 million.