

having been debated. I do so for the following reasons: There have been only two interventions in the debate on this report. The deputy chairman of the committee, Senator Barrow, introduced the report and spoke to it. Senator Roblin then spoke to it. I have since spoken to Senator Roblin, who feels that for the moment he has said everything he wishes to say respecting the report, and he agrees that the matter should now be considered as having been debated. That is the first reason.

The second reason is that I understand there is a good chance we will receive the bill itself next week, because there has been a time allocation notice given in the other place for Bill C-57. If that proceeds in the normal course, we will probably have the bill next week, or the week after, when I expect we will have a number of bites at it.

For those reasons I suggest that this particular item on the Order Paper be considered as having been debated.

Hon. Senators: Agreed.

The Hon. the Speaker pro tem: As no other honourable senator rises to speak, or wishes to adjourn the debate, I declare the inquiry debated.

The Senate adjourned until tomorrow at 2 p.m.
