

Sir Arthur Currie.

room will have to be provided for them in the immediate future. It cannot be too emphatically stated that the Library has entirely outgrown the present building in every department of its activity and that it is seriously congested at the present moment.

I trust that plans for the extension of University buildings will include a wing to the Library.

Faithfully yours,

C. F. Loner.

University Librarian.