NECESSITY KNOWS NO LAW.

Striking Switchman—"Hello, Leggitt! Ain't we holding 'em level? Blamed near every road in the city tied up, and—"

Leggitt—"I know it, confound your hide! Why couldn't you let Pullman and his carpenters settle their quarrel without sticking your nose in it, hey?"

"Say, what's the matter with you, anyhow? Are you the same Leggitt that's always encouraged railroad strikes and always had so much to say about soulless, grasping corporations?"

Mr. J. Lancaster, who spent five years upon the west coast of Florida in the study of the habits of aquatic birds, of which he has made a specialty, asserts that he has seen frigate birds fly for seven consecutive days, night and day, without ever resting. According to his observations the fatigue of these birds is not excessive, even in such long continuances in the air. In fact the frigate bird can easily and almost without the flap of the wing, not only maintain herself, but also fly with a speed of nearly a hundred miles an hour. The spread of the wings extended varies between eleven and thirteen feet.

"What are those circumstances, Miss Marigold?" fiercely demanded the young man. "Your circumstances, Mr. Spoonamore."
