Benjamin Franklin Lord Nelson Jose Otero

Yesterday's sessions of the Methodist conference at Euclid-avenue Church have been, from a business standpoint, the most prolific of the whole.

At the morning's session the question was brought up as to whether hotels should be permitted to carry on the sale of cigars and cigarets under hotel license. The subject formed a part of the report on "Temperance and Moral Reform," and, after some dis-cussion, was referred to the committee with an amendment that the tobacco privilege clause be eliminated. It was pointed out by Rev. Mr. It was pointed out by Hev. Mr. Washington that bars have a special privilege in being permitted to sell, tobacco, cigars and cigarets without a license, and are not subject to the municipal bylaws. If the government should compel them to take out a li-cense the bylaws would apply to them, and the cigaret evil could then be considered.

considered. There was a proposal to strike the word tobacco out of the report, but it was lost, and Rev. Mr. Campbell's mo-tion to refer the report back upon that point was carried, and a further amendment to strike out the word 'tobacco.'

A report from the stationing com-mittee presented the subject of mis-sions, and it was recommended the conference form four new missions. Rev. J. Allen, superintendent of mis-sions, gave an encourse ing report of Rev. J. Allen, superintendent of mis-sions, gave an encouraging report of the work, stating that ten missions were now self-supporting. The salaries paid to married mis-sionaries, $600, and that given to single ordained men, $800, was inentioned. Miss Scott, the superintendent of the deaconess' home gave an account of the work done by that organiza-tion.
