The Viper of Milan. A ROMANCE OF LOMBARDY. BY MARJORIE BOWEN.

(Continued.) "She is a Visconti," returned the secretary. "She has something of the Duke's temper and his strangeness—there may be in it curiosity also. "Curiosity?" "To behold for herself if Isotta d'Este be as fair as she is reputed to be, and to see her treatment of her prisoners. "Have you seen the lady, my lord?" "I never," replied de Lana. "Nor do I greatly care to." (Giannotto made no reply; he felt unusually placid and content. He saw plainly enough that Valentine was overwriting her brother, and as he hated the Duke and admired his sister, he would help her with all his power as long as he ran. He would ask for nothing in return, and Valentine would reward him well. With some excitement he awaited her return. "She is a long time," said de Lana impatiently. "She has her brother's daring," thought Giannotto. "And yet—she would hardly dare that—hardly." The door of Isotta's prison was opened and Valentine came out, followed by her attendants—dark-cloaked figures keeping in the shadow. Adrian closed and bolted the door behind them as she slowly stepped down into the room. "The prisoner is sick," said Valentine. "Not dangerously so, I hope," we would not have her die in my brother's absence. She has fallen asleep and must not be disturbed. Where is her woman?" "You will not rouse your prisoner until my return with a physician," she continued. "She sleeps. I will return as soon as I can. You will not open those doors, nor you yourself." The page and Valentine's two women still stood on the steps in the shadow. "Come," said Valentine suddenly. "Much as I am relieved to see my brother's home in such security, this is gloomy dark come, Costanza." "The poor lady hath unwept her," said Valentine with a sharp word of reproach, and she crossed to d'Orleans. "Now it seems to me," said de Lana to Giannotto, "that one lady entered with the Princess." "Your eyes deceived you," smiled Giannotto. "I am trained to watch; I saw two enter." De Lana was silent. The two ladies had joined the few others left by the outer door, the soldier kept his eyes upon the one who wept. Valentine was talking gaily to d'Orleans and led the way across the garden. "On your life I charge you to guard the prisoner," she said to the captain and the soldiers. "She means more to the Duke than his own life almost—more most certainly than any other," she added meaningly. De Lana, watching keenly, still kept his eyes, as they crossed the garden, upon that second lady, who puzzled him, and with a soldier's indiscretion he whispered his fears to Giannotto. "My lady Valentine," said the secretary smiling, "my lord here thinks you entered the prison with one lady and came out with two." Valentine laughed. "And who, think you, was my second woman, then, lord? Isotta d'Este? Nay, I will satisfy you." "Indeed, lady," began de Lana hastily, but Valentine cut him short. "Come here, Costanza." "The girl came forward." "Now hold the torch higher, Adrian," laughed Valentine. "The light fell on Costanza's face."

A LIVING GHOST!

That is What Her Friends Said About Her

Read how Mrs. James Steele, Waterville, Que., was cured by the use of MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills act directly on the disordered heart and nerves, and restore them to healthy action. They have no equal for reviving and strengthening the heart beat, in vigorizing the nervous system, and acting as a food for the blood, improving its quality, making it rich and red.

READY FOR A SHORT SPIN.

Black taffeta silk auto garments have long since proved their serviceability for the short runs in and about town. One of the best models in this coat of chiffon taffeta, cut in three-quarters length and flaring gracefully from the bust line. The neck is cut in a deep V and inset with a half-inch collar of black and blue corded silk, with overtrimmings of gunmetal buttons and black sash-like braid. The sleeves are full length and ample in size, and the cuffs are inset with more of the striped silk. With this coat a dainty hat may be worn, but it should be protected by a scarf or veil, as the illustration shows. Otherwise, one may wear one of those visored leather caps which fit down snugly over the coflure, and need not be accompanied by the auto veil when the hair is covered with a fine net.

All Run Down

In the spring—that is the condition of thousands whose systems have not thrown off the impurities accumulated during the winter—blood humors that are now causing pimples, boils and other eruptions, loss of appetite, bilious turns, indigestion, and other stomach troubles, dull headaches and weak, tired, languid feelings. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes all these humors, cures all these troubles; restores, strengthens and tones the whole system. This is the testimony of thousands annually. Accept no substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Insist on having Hood's. Get it today. Sold everywhere. 100 doses one dollar.

FROM VANCOUVER TO GREAT BRITAIN

New Line of Steamers to Run via Australia and New Zealand. Vancouver, B. C., April 16—A direct line of eleven fast steamers will ply between Vancouver and Great Britain via Australia and New Zealand, completing another "all red" girdle about the world. This line will divert to Vancouver the Australian freight, passenger and mail ships formerly passed through San Francisco.

Teriva Clark, managing director of the shipbuilding firm of James Laing & Son, Scotland, and John Esplen, representing an English mail syndicate, arrived at Vancouver from Australia on the steamer "Mascot" and have been looking over the dockage and other facilities offered.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Come from the Rich, Red Blood Made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Beauty is more than skin deep—it is blood deep. There is no real beauty, no good health without rich, red blood. Every graceful curve, every sparkle of the eye, every rosy blush, comes from rich red blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest blood builder and beauty maker in the world. Every dose actually makes new, pure, rich blood. By making new blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills sharpen the appetite, soothe the worried nerves, regulate the health. They banish pale, thin, clear complexion, bring rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes. They give plenty of strong blood for all the delicate functions of womanhood. Miss Mary Jackson, Normandale, Ont., says: "For upwards of three years I suffered from anemia. I grew so weak I could scarcely walk about the house. I had no color in my face, my lips and gums were bloodless. I suffered from headaches and dizziness, and fell away in weight until I weighed only 84 pounds. No treatment gave me the least benefit until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Inside of a few weeks after beginning the pills I began to grow better, and they soon restored my health, and while using them I gained fourteen pounds in weight. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all pale and feeble girls. There are thousands of pale anemic girls and women throughout Canada who should follow the example of Miss Jackson and give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. Bright eyes, rosy cheeks, and perfect health would soon follow. When you buy the pills see that the full name, 'Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People,' is printed on the wrapper around each box. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Weyman. The Spokane Spokesman Review of April 1 contains a notice of the death of Mrs. Mary Weyman, aged sixty-seven, which took place at the home of her son, W. H. Weyman, 1222 Monroe street, Spokane. She was born in England, but was well known in this province as the wife of Rev. Samuel Weyman, a Baptist clergyman, who died several years ago, after many years' service in New Brunswick. Mrs. Weyman went west about fourteen years ago, and had been living with her daughter, Mrs. T. H. Dunstan, in Missoula, Montana. Besides her daughter, two sons—E. T. and W. H. Weyman—survive.

Dr. Oscar F. McCallum. Dr. Oscar F. McCallum, brother of Mrs. D. C. Clinch, of this city, died yesterday at his home in Sydney (C. B.), after a brief illness. He was forty-three years of age, and a son of the late Archibald McCallum, of Matiland (N. S.). He practiced for some years in Matiland, but five or six years ago moved to Sydney, where he enjoyed a good practice and the good will of all. He is survived by his wife.

Mrs. S. T. Miller. Bathurst, N. B., April 16—The death of Mrs. Miller, wife of S. Thomas Miller, occurred at her residence here last night. The deceased lady had been ailing about a year with tuberculosis. Mrs. Miller was forty-five years of age, and was formerly Miss Elizabeth Napier, only child of the late Samuel H. Napier, ex-M. P. for this county. She is survived by her mother, husband, two daughters—Miss Greta and Annie, of Bathurst, and four sons—Clyde and Harry, of Calgary, and Duff and George, of Bathurst.

NO JUDGE THIS YEAR

Mr. Aylesworth Says He Has No Official Information of Another Supreme Court Judge for New Brunswick.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 16 (Special)—Mr. Aylesworth, in reply to Mr. Foster, said that he had no information beyond what was in the press, as to New Brunswick, asking for the appointment of a seventh judge of the supreme court. The Dominion would not pass any legislation in this direction this session.

All Turn Believers

Many have aches and pains that for years have defied all treatment. But once "Nerviline" is used, doubt turns into belief that no aches, pains or bruises exist that "Nerviline" won't cure. Greasy liniments stay on the outside—they can't penetrate—but "Nerviline" sinks right in, gets where the nerves and muscles are sore, applies its healing, soothing properties and away goes neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago—any ache or pain that needs curing. Much sickness averted in the home by promptly applying "Nerviline." For minor ills and children's sick spells, "Nerviline" is as good as the doctor; try a 25c. bottle.

PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF WALES MAY VISIT CANADA

Montreal, April 16—A special London cable says: It is rumored that the Prince and Princess of Wales will pay another visit to Canada in the near future. The last visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Canada (they were then the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York) was in 1901, when they made the grand tour of all the colonies. They left Fortmouth in the steamship Ophir on March 18 of that year and proceeded to Australia, where the prince opened the first parliament of the commonwealth of Australia. After visiting New Zealand they proceeded to South Africa and thence to Canada, landing at Quebec. They crossed the continent and eventually sailed from Halifax for England, where they arrived in November.

Rev. Dr. W. E. McIntyre left yesterday for Wolfville to meet the ministerial committee and to arrange for students to supply the home mission field in New Brunswick during the coming summer.
