New York, Aug. 7—Jewelers of the Bronx, alarmed by the ever-increasing number of hold-ups, have decided to learn to shoot, according to Max Korsunsky, president of the Retail Jewelers' Association of the Bronx-Jewelers' Association of the Bronx. A mass meeting has been called for tonight. Instruction in shooting will be given to the 125 members of the association and their employes, by experts in the Police Department.

Most of the jewelers have pistols now, Mr. Korsunsky said, but they do not know how to use them properly, nor do they know the best methods of handling robbers as worked out by the police. It is planned to work out a course of lessons in the use of the revolver and a method to meet the attack of robbers.
