Directly the persons landed the boat was pulled back to the vessel, was hoisted aboard and the mys terious craft slipped away in the darkness as quickly and as quietly as sh came. The identity of the vessel cannot be fearned, but it is supposed that smugglers have landed a cargo of Chinese who will be scattered and concealed before the officers can take up the trail.

A DOUBLE LIFE.

Lounsbury Played the Dual Role of Godly Man and Thief,

New York, April 20.-A decision Judge Beach yesterday, granting an inunction to restrain Jeanette G. Lounsbury and Henry J. Metz from making any disposition of the estate of William Vallace Lounsbury, made public charges that a crime was carefully concealed durng Lounsbury's life, and that he had lived for years under an assumed name. The injunction was the result of an action in the supreme court brought by Henry Murray, the former police justice, to discover about $20,000 which he alleges was stolen from him by Lounsbury, who was in his employ from 1884, until April, 1893, in the capacity of confidential clerk, bookkeeper and collector.

On November 24th, 1893, Mr. Murray, who is a coke merchant, served notice on the administrators, Mrs. Lounsbury and Mr. Metz, to the effect that he claimed the entire estate on the grounds that it consisted of moneys of his which Lounsbury had collected and appropriated to his own use, or property resulting from the use of that money. The claim was denied by the administrator. Murray said last evening that for seven years he had never looked into the safe, o great was his confidence in Lounsbury's integrity. Lounsbury was in en-tire charge of the books and the funds. He was prominent in the Y. M. C. A. and his habits were the most exemplary. He seldom took a vacation and apparenty lived within his means. He was se-mouthed and talked very little about his family affairs, though Judge Murray knew that he had a wife with whom he lived in the upper part of the city.

Judge Murray remembered that Louns dry was greatly distressed when he was nce drawn on a jury and that he pleaded illness as an excuse. He was also au-xious to keep his name out of the di-After Lounsbury's death, on April 4th, 1893, Mrs. Lounsbury called at Judge Murray's office, 603 West 42nd street, and asked for a tin box which er husband had placed in a desk. SUBMARINE DANGERS.

A Shoal in the Gulf That Astonished Old Mariners.

New Orleans, La., April 20.-Captain

Gerchon of the steamer Prof. Morse, which arrived here last night from Puerto Cortes, Honduras, reports that on Tuesday at noon, when he was about 125 miles from the pass in latitude 27, longitude 88.28, the ship entered a large patch of green water and there was every indication of a shoal of large extent. Green water extended on every side as far as he could see, and there were ripples plainly visible as in a river. The ship sailed for six hours, or a distance of rate was lamber $15 a thousand. 50 miles, before getting over the shoal, While it is thought that there may be and immediately a strong current was met flowing in a south southeast direction at the rate of two knots an hour. The discovery of this shoal dumfounded the captain, as he had passed over the same course many times before and had never noticed it. He thought it was formed by volcanic eruption or submarine explosion.

The current flowing south-southeast was noticed as a most unusual occurrence, and the log registered 135 miles to the passes, when the true distance by chart is only 104, thus showing the strength of its flow. The captain said he thought some very great disturbance had taken place in the Gulf, and that it would be necessary for the government to send a ship to make a search for any new shoals or currents.

This shoal was not the one reported by Captain Dubois some time ago, as that shoal was only ten miles from the mouth of the pass, this one was at least 125. The captain did not make any soundings, therefore he did not know the exact depth of water but he said that some places looked to be very shoal, and the water could be plainly seen swirling in ripples. Its location was southeast from the

The Liberal members of the committee held that this company was a monstrous combination extracting every dollar that they could from the people and the committee would not be justified in passing the bill. The company included all the cordage companies of the country except the binding twine factories, and parliament ought not to give increased powers until such time as the fullest information was received regarding it. The bill was postponed until the next meeting without anything being done.

Associated Press reporter called at the hospital to-day, and upon being informed that Miss Pollard was unable to receive callers sent to her a note inquiring her plans for the future. note was answered in person by her brother, Mr. John T. Pollard. "My sister has made no plans for the

This was the last of a series of mee ings which prominent women had been holding since Good Friday and which crystallized into the form of an organi zation called the Women's Protective League. The object of the league will be to combat the enforcement of that text uttered on the witness stand by Col. Breckinridge, that social sins injure a man and destroy a woman. The league will endeavor to secure equal rights for both sexes and to aid women who have been wronged. It is of course an outgrowth of the Pollard-Breckinridge suit. The ladies have invited Judge Jere Wilson to become the general counsel of the league but the attorney has not yet responded to the invitation. THE IMPERIAL HOUSE. Hon. John Morley Introduces the Evicted

Tenants' Bili. London, April 19.—In the house of commons to-day Rt. Hon. John Morley, secretary for Ireland, introduced the Evicted Tenants bill. It was proposed, he said to establish a board of arbitration, whose term of existence would be three years. This board would be empowered to issue orders reinstating tenants upon being petitioned to do so. These orders would be made conditionally; but there was no opposition on the past of the landlords they would be made absolute. In cases where the landlords opposed the issuance of such orders the board of arbitration would investigate the matter and decide it finally,

Meanwhile the tenant would reoccupy his holding until a fair rental was fixed either by the board, by arbitration or by the land commission The board of arbitration might, according to the terms of the bill, direct the payment of arrears and costs to an amount not exceeding the sum of two years' rental at the old figure. In case a reinstated tenant's house should have been destroyed, Mr. Morley said the board of arbitrators would have power to advance to him a sum not exceeding £50, to be used in restoring the building. No evicted tenant's petition should be heard before due notice should have been served on the new tenant. If the new tenant should offer any objection, that objection must be treated as an absolute block on the jurisdiction of the board.

proceed to fix compensation. Coming to the question of the funds at the disposition of the board, Mr. Morley said it was proposed to appropriate £100,000 from the temporalities of the Irish church. (Opposition cries of "Oh, Oh, greeted this statement.) This sum, said Mr. Morley, would be used by the arbitrators only for the purposes already mentioned. The expenses of the administration and the salaries of the arbitrators and their official staff would be paid from the consolidated fund. "This measure is not brought forward in any spirit of partizanship," said Mr. Morley in closing. "There is no desire to give either party a triumph over the other. The government wish to heal the deep wound in the social condition of Ireland, and for this purpose of healing they commend the Rght Hon. Mr. Balfour said he would like to know what principle was to regulate the fixing of fair rent. Would the rent be fixed according to the condition of the farm when the tenant left it, or when he returned to it? Mr. Balfour disapproved of the plan of drawing the board's funds from the temporalities of the Irish church. This church fund, he said was already heard mortgaged The use of the fund to assist in a plan of ampaign for the tenants but never been dreamed of by those whose t the money apart for the whole of Ireland.

Timothy Harrington (Parnellite) said the bill was disappointing and would never satisfy Ireland. Its object seemed to be to humbug the people. John Dillon (anti-Parnellite) declared the bill to be exceedingly valuable. The new tenants would retire gladly, he said, under the terms of compensation pro-Thomas Sexton (anti-Parnellite) said
