United States and Chili.

There appears to be a storm brewing between the United States and Chili.

We have been reading in the papers the last six months of the great preparations going on in the U. S. Navy yards, of the number of war vessels being placed in commission and to be drawn from the mercantile marine—preparations great enough, one would suppose to engage with one of the first European Naval powers.

It may be that this is only intended as a scare to Chili, and may cause a cold chill to run through her whole fabric, and bring her to her knees and kneel for pardon. Now had the United States six months ago sent one of those O'Learys, of rash fame, into Chilian Waters, they would have received all the satisfaction required, and the war cloud would have burst long ere this. But the newspaper time being made among our neighbors, reminds us of the elephant preparing to attack the mosquito, a creature so inevitable, just like Chili upon the world's map, that it is difficult to know where to place it. If the United States, however, mean business and not merely bluster, it is to be hoped by civilization that she will not surrender at the last hour to a paper time being made among our neighbors. The same arguments have been in order in all those other cheap Republics ever since they broke the Spanish yoke. The only stable and solid government those southern barbarians ever had, had to be broken down to make way for the rampant demagogues of the times. Ever since the flight of Don Pedro they have been murdering each other, and will continue so to do until another Cromwell, or Napoleon, comes forth to assume the reins of power and bastinadoes the whole lot of them. Let the United States go on with the war and take possession and hold on, in the interests of humanity and civilization.

A CAPE BRETON MIRACLE.

A Case that Fairly Outrivals the Wonderful Hamilton Cure.

Stephen, Nelson and Ciron upon "Who Must Be a Cure"—An interesting story, as revealed by a reporter.

Halifax Herald, December 18th.

A few months ago all Canada was astounded by a remarkable cure reported from the city of Hamilton, Ont., and vouched for by the press and many of the leading residents of that city.

In the Hamilton case the man (a Mr. Marshall) had been pronounced incurable, and after rigid examination by half a score of physicians, the Royal Templars of Temperance paid him the $100 members of that order are entitled to when pronounced totally incapacitated from labor. The remarkable narrative of Mr. Marshall's cure and the remedy to which he owed his recovery were given wide publicity by the press throughout the Dominion, and naturally brought a ray of hope to others who were similarly afflicted. Among the homes to which it thus brought hope was that of Mr. Joseph Jerritt, of the North West Arm, N. B., and Mr. Jerritt's recovery may be regarded as even more marvelous than that of Mr. Marshall, and many others whose cures have recently been recorded. One thing however, is certain, and that is that never before in the history of Cape Breton has a medicine wrought such an almost miraculous cure. In the year 1879 Mr. Jerritt received a fall from a truck wagon, the wheel of which passed over the small of his back. Those with him succeeded in restoring him to consciousness and took him to his home which was near by. For six months he was unable to perform any work and even after a lapse of a year was troubled with severe pains and weakness of the limbs. He was able, however, to do light work about the farm, and about a year later slipped on a vessel bound for Charleston, S. C. While on this trip Mr. Jerritt was engaged in furling a sail when he overreached himself, and felt something start as though something had burst in his left side. He became almost helpless, and on the arrival of the vessel at Charleston, he was taken to the hospital for medical treatment. Here he remained for over two months under the most skillful physicians. His condition grew stronger again, but his limbs grew weak frequently the pains were intense. Mr. Jerritt was returned home, but he had not grown worse and the pains never left him. After his return home, he made an attempt to work but had to give it up, and gradually became more and more feeble at last he was entirely helpless and was looked upon by his friends as one who not only could not recover, but whose death would be a relief to his family. In this condition, depressed in mind, helpless, and continually suffering intense pain, that at last a ray of hope came to him. One day he read in the Halifax Herald of Mr. Marshall's remarkable cure. Symptoms in this case were those of his own, and despite the fact that he had already expended hundreds of dollars in patent medicines and medical treatment without receiving any benefit, he determined to try the remedy that had restored Mr. Marshall to health. The result is that he is again restored to health and strength. Hearing from various sources that Mr. Jerritt's remarkable recovery the local reporter determined to investigate the matter, and gives his story as told to him. "In my early days," says Mr. Jerritt, "I was one of the strongest young men in our village. Until I received the fall in 1879 I did not know anything about sickness, but after that time I could not know a well day. I tried to fight the trouble off and to work, and partially succeeded up to the time I received the strain on board the ship while bound for Charleston. Since then my limbs have continued to grow worse altogether, and need for a doctor. I may add that all kinds of medicines were tried but none did me any permanent good. The physicians of our place said my disease was locomotor ataxia, and enough several of the best of them, in fact the impression became general that 'poor Joe must soon go.' After the failure of the doctor's treatment I applied resorted to patent medicines of which I believe I have taken $500 worth. Still my disease grew worse and finally I was unable to even move from my bed. I was advised to again go to the hospital in Halifax, and after spending two months there I returned home only to find myself even worse than before. My legs became so weak that I could not stand alone having to use two chairs to steady myself; I could not bear my weight on them. For five weeks I was between life and death. My left leg swelled to an enormous size and the doctors pronounced it drooping. My feet and legs have been cold for over five years until the last three months. It was impossible for me to sleep in my legs and body. Mustard drafts were applied, but no sooner would they be taken off than the pain would return. About one year ago I lost all feelings from my legs; they would feel like ice and to move them caused the greatest agony. I prayed that God would take me from this world and give me relief from the torment which I was hourly in. Thus I lived; not lived, but existed, a suffering being without one day's relief from the most excruciating pangs from the disease. How the face of the hitherto sufferer brightened as he began to tell of the recovery, as it were, from death, and continuing, he said:—"But from the blackest day of my sickness a glimmer of hope shone when my little girl who brought home my paper read the advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got her to read to me the cure effected in the case of John Marshall, of Hamilton. As soon as she read the statements contained therein, I saw at once that his case was similar to mine and I told my wife that I believed I would be a well man again if I only would succeed in obtaining some of this medicine. I sent to our drug store but found none there, I then decided to send to Brookville, Ont., for the pills, but my neighbors only laughed at me saying that they were just like all other patent medicines, no good. This was in August. I forwarded the money and in a few days received two boxes of pills, deciding to give them a fair trial. After taking them a short time the pains left me, and to-day I am not troubled with an ache or pain. True, my limbs have not yet entirely recovered their former strength, but it makes me happy to know that if five boxes will enable me to stand 'with just a little assistance more will continue and complete the cure. Dead legs for a year are not easily made perfectly strong again but," says Mr. Jerritt, "I threw both legs high in the air, 'this is something myself or my friends never hoped to see. All my neighbors gave me up for dead, but thank God my strength is returning, and after three months I feel like a new man. You need not fear to state my case plainly, as I am well known in Cape Breton, and all the people hereabouts know how far gone I was. Scores of the neighbors call to see me and are surprised to find that I am now improving daily. My appetite has returned, my strength is renewed, and when my limbs become a little stronger I shall be a healthier man than ever. No doubt exists in my mind of complete cure as the worst symptoms have entirely disappeared and I seem invigorated by the medicine. 'You see,' he said to the reporter, 'I am to work mending nets as I feel too well to remain idle. Every person who saw me last July, and sees me now can bear testimony to the truth of the story I am telling you. My weight since I began taking the Pills has increased from 150 pounds to 140 pounds and I am heavier now than I have been for five years. I hope that I have told you will induce other sufferers to try this wonderful medicine, and I am sure they will have as good reason to feel grateful for it as I do.' After the interview with Mr. Jerritt, the reporter called on several of his neighbors, all of whom endorsed his statements, and said they considered his cure one of the most wonderful things that had ever occurred in their observation. They one and all gave the credit to the treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and are naturally enthusiastic in speaking of them. The proprietors of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills state that they are not a patent medicine, but a scientific preparation the result of years of careful study on the part of an eminent graduate of McGill and Edinburgh universities, and they have been used for many years in his private practice before being offered for sale throughout the country. They are offered to the public as a never-failing blood builder and nerve restorer, curing all diseases such as paralysis, rheumatism, sciatica, palpitation of the heart, muscular weakness, etc. These pills are also a specific for the troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, bearing down pains, chronic constipation, and all forms of weakness, building up the blood and restoring the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In the case of men their effect is radical, curing ailments arising from mental worry, overwork, or excess of any nature. The proprietors deem it their duty to caution the public against imitations. These pills are never sold in any form except in boxes, the wrapper around which bears the trade mark "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." They are sold by all druggists or will be sold post paid upon receipt of price, 50 cents a box—by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brookville, Ont., or Morris-town, N. Y.

HON. EDWARD BLAKE.

An effort is being made to get this gentleman to offer as a candidate for the Dominion Parliament, as the Liberals want him very much. It may be that as a lawyer, Mr. Blake is a very able man, but as a statesman we have our doubts. That manifesto over his own signature in opposition to the trade policy of the Liberals issued at a most inopportune time, places him in our opinion in the most ignominious position which was in effect that free trade with the United States was a synonym with annexation! Was ever a more unwise statement made even by a third rate man? Surely Canada and the United States can agree to exchange certain commodities, manufactured as well as natural, without one surrendering to the other his right to control what other articles it wishes to keep in reserve? Both countries flourished by an exchange of natural products, and no questions were asked as to the world's loyalty. Why apprehend any great disturbance, if manufacturers are included? Yes, but that would be a discrimination against England—while this can be denied, it may be asked—even suppose it does—what is that your business, Mr. Blake, or Mr. Anybody else? Is Canada to stand still because we think we have no right to move ahead lest we risk affronting England? This is mere child's talk. But even take the view that a free trade policy with the United States would be un-English, on what ground are the difficulties based? On the imagination pure and simple. England now does a vast business with the United States, in the face of the restrictive duties she meets with in the markets of our neighbors, in some cases all but prohibitory—yet, a far more maritime business than she does with Canada under a smaller imposition. Suppose then we had free trade with the United States and applied the same scale of duties upon British goods as our neighbors do, would not England drive a larger trade with us than she now does, by virtue of our increased prosperity and therefore greater ability to become better paying customers. If Mr. Blake still holds to the narrow views he promulgated a year ago, let him severely advertise in this PAPER.
