Helped The Gravel.

East Broughton Que., Jan. 31, 1887.

SIR,—I have been troubled for the past ten years with the gravel. I heard of your pills and tried them, they have done me so much good that I will not be without them while I live, and take great pleasure in recommending them to all others who are suffering from the same disease.

Yours Respectfully,

ROBT. McKEAGE.

MOTHERS.

Nearly half of the children born in this country die before they are five years old. What a fact for newly-made mothers to know, yet correct governmental reports show us that it is perfectly true. In London alone almost twenty-five thousand children die every year who have not attained ten years of age. But who are to be blamed for this? The mother or the doctors? Certainly not the all-wise Creator.

We will leave this delicate question with this observation, that too many mothers gorge and improperly feed their babies and too many doctors imprudently give violent mercurial medicines, which, if they do sometimes relieve a disease, are also very unsafe, and likely to destroy the tender life of infancy. Arsenic, Antimony, Calomel, Sugar of Lead, etc., were never meant for baby physic, nor indeed to be taken into any human stomach. They do well enough to kill rats and other vermin, but were never intended to restore health either to man or child, for their poisonous action always weakens the body, and their continued use may leave it a complete wreck.

But this awful waste of infant life should no longer continue, for with common sense, a little more care, and by the means of a few simple, safe, sure, and ever-ready remedies, four out of five of these hitherto fatal cases can easily be saved from such an early, such a premature death.
