

JOHN A SAVARY VICTIM OF ACCIDENT IN REGINA

Youngest Son of Judge A. W. Savary, Annapolis Royal, and Deservedly Popular—Has Relations Here.

News has been received of the death at Regina of John Howe Savary, a former Nova Scotia resident, and youngest son of Judge A. W. Savary of Annapolis Royal. On Monday last the late Mr. Savary was the victim of a shooting accident which proved fatal, death following on Tuesday, which was also the occasion of his thirty-first birthday.

The deceased was a bright young man. Not only in the west where he has resided of late, but also in Nova Scotia he was well and favorably known, and the news of his untimely death will be heard with regret by a large circle of friends who will extend their sympathy to the bereaved father, stepmother, to whom he was deeply attached, and to the other members of the family.

Before removing to Saskatchewan, Mr. Savary spent two or three years in Verduin, Man. Since coming to Regina he was connected with the Bank of Ottawa, at that place. His popularity with the citizens of Verduin was attested by a resolution of sympathy passed by them and forwarded to the deceased's father as well as by a magnificent floral tribute.

Besides his father and stepmother he is survived by two brothers, Rev. Thomas W. Savary of Kingston, Ont., and H. P. Otty Savary, barrister, of Calgary, James S. and R. P. McEivern and Miss Clara O. McEivern of this city are first cousins of the deceased, while the Misses Earle of St. John are second cousins.

The remains are being brought east for burial and interment is to take place in Dieby on Tuesday next.

WANT COLDER WEATHER TO MAKE ICE SAFE

Residents of Bayswater and Vicinity Unable to get to City on Ice Roads—Short of Provisions.

Never, in a good many years, has the river been so open during the winter months. From the beginning of the season until the present time it has never been frozen over solidly, and it was only with great risk that one or two farmers made the journey across from the Bayswater side with horse and sled. On different occasions the residents have skated across and parties have brought with them sleds loaded with produce. But many have not ventured on the ice, and have been living on the supply laid in before the beginning of winter. On last Wednesday the ice was as solid as any day during this season and it was expected that on Thursday horses would be able to convey with safety, and the other residents and those who had planned on bringing their produce to the city for disposal were sadly disappointed.

MAJORITY OPPOSED PERMANENT PAVING ON DOUGLAS AVENUE

A meeting of the property holders of Douglas Avenue was held last evening in Bentley street school to discuss the possibility of having permanent pavement on the avenue. The meeting which was a representative one, was presided over by Thomas Hilyard and was largely attended. Although a great number of the property holders were strongly in favor of the street being paved, the majority did not approve of the plan.

A portion of the property holders met some time ago, and all present were very enthusiastic over the proposed paving, and thought that the plan if adopted, would add greatly to the beauty of the street. A communication had been received from the commissioners stating that the approximate figure for the proposed paving would be $22,000. Of this amount the city would be satisfied to pay one-third.

Although the majority of those present last evening voted the proposition down, all the larger property holders strongly approved of it, and it is their intention to immediately issue circulars petitioning the others to join them.

Those residents who are in favor of adopting the plan are willing that the property holders contribute as their share a sum not exceeding $21,000, which is practically one-third of the estimated cost.

NEXT ARMISTICE WILL BE MADE ON FIELD

Continued from page 1. M. Mlyuskovitch, head of the Montenegrin delegation, went to Paris today but he will return to London tomorrow and leave here direct for Cetinje next Wednesday. The exchange of communications between the representatives of the powers was active today, but thus far it seems that no practical way has been found to avert a resumption of hostilities. The British government will be greatly disappointed if the conference results in a failure, especially after the optimistic statements uttered on several occasions by Premier Asquith.

Capacity Audience Greeted "A Rose Among Thorns" on Second Performance Last Evening

The second production of "A Rose Among Thorns" was given in the Opera House last evening. His Honor or Lieut. Governor Wood, who was unable to attend on the opening night, was present at last evening's performance and occupied a box. Last night's presentation of the delightful play was another triumph. Not a seat in the house was vacant at the rise of the curtain and during the whole performance the audiences were kept enthused. The play itself and the bright specialties were thoroughly appreciated.

The principals in the cast, Mrs. F. C. Colborne, F. C. Owens, Steve Hurley, J. J. O'Toole and Miss G. Hanson proved great favorites. In the role of Lady Worthley Miss Hanson gave a delightful rendition of an unassuming heroine. Her natural ease and grace, and excellent interpretation of the part compelled the attention of the audience, and although in league with the hero of the troubles which befell her and her heroine, she had not an opportunity to display her ability at greater length was regretted by all.

The Hanses, the rollicking fun making captain did excellent work again last night. The ladies of the cast gave a good account of themselves, and although in league with the hero of the troubles which befell her and her heroine, she had not an opportunity to display her ability at greater length was regretted by all.

The Atlantic committee of the board will convene at the Department of Marine and Fisheries, Ottawa, on the first Tuesday in April and in October of each year; the prairie committee on the second Tuesday, and the British Columbia committee on the third Tuesday of these months.

DR. CARTER TALKS OF NEW COLLEGE PLANS

Superintendent of Education Expects Much Benefit from Proposed Agricultural College at Sussex.

Dr. W. S. Carter, superintendent of education, was in the city Thursday and left on the Montreal for Fredericton in conversation with The Standard with regard to the proposed agricultural college at Sussex. Dr. Carter said that at present the committee having the matter in charge were making tentative plans for the erection of the building, the choice of the site, and the line of instruction to be taken up.

He said that the school would probably be divided into two departments and teachers for manual training and domestic science secured. It is the intention of the committee to carry out a propaganda among the farmers of the province and to bring before them the advantage to be obtained from attending the school by demonstrating on their own farms that with the proper knowledge the earning power of the land can be doubled.

The agriculture course will include the correct method of drainage, soil cultivation and all other branches of the work necessary to good farming. It is expected that when the farmers are shown that by attending the college they can learn to increase the output of their holdings much interest will be taken in it.

Dr. Carter said that the proposed government grant of $44,000 would cover the first expense, and that it was hoped the grant would be increased in time to $4,000.

Speaking of the value of the Kings county farms Dr. Carter was of the opinion that they were in advance of those of the rest of the province. He said that the farmers were exporting vast quantities of cheese and butter to the West Indies, more so than to the old country, as the southern market demanded larger shipments and paid better prices. At present the farmers could hardly keep up with the demand, and were shipping green cheese, which he hoped would not spoil the excellent reputation won for New Brunswick cheese.

$40,000 A YEAR FOR DRESS

What is at the present time the annual dress budget of the fashionable Parisienne? asks a Paris correspondent of The New York Times. This problem has just been investigated by La Miroir, a weekly paper, in a number of interviews with leading dress and lingerie makers, furriers, shoemakers, hatsmakers and jewelers, as well as several of the most beautifully dressed actresses in Paris.

For clothes alone, apart from jewelry, La Miroir finds that a woman can be well dressed at an annual expenditure of a little over $40,000. To be an elegantly attired Parisienne, who wishes to be above criticism, one must buy every twelve months half a dozen tailor-made dresses, costing on the average of $140; ten evening gowns every season, for which one pays between $500 and $500, as well as, at least, three riding and sport costumes, costing $140 apiece. The linen is separate, the articles of which cost from $10 to $60 apiece, and comprise about 100 pieces, running up to at least $4,800 in all.

As to furs, any woman who desires to be elegant must, it is declared, possess a sable mantle costing between $6,000 and $10,000, mantles of chinchilla and ermine at $1,400 each, as well as muffs and stoles to match at about $2,000.

What one turns to hats, any fashionable woman must buy half a dozen hats monthly, varying between $30 and $400. These, with a few more elaborate trimmings, at $160 and two other feather trimmings at $100, bring the hat total up to $13,000. At least twenty-four pairs of shoes must be bought, none to cost less than $16, and three pairs of buckles at $16. These will total over $300, and must be accompanied by $400 worth of stockings. Six pairs of corsets at $100 must be bought annually.

The total of these figures, without counting automobile or winter sport outfits, reaches the figure of $46,000 but as the average well-dressed woman does not need new furs every year, and is content to rearrange them at the beginning of the season and add new trimmings, $6,000 may be deducted from the annual expenditure.

These amounts are not fancy ones, but are declared by the trades people interviewed to be those spent by large numbers of their customers.

The question of jewels is more difficult to decide, owing to the variety of taste shown in this respect. Some of the most fashionable women in the French capital are almost indifferent to precious stones, while others have a passion for them. At all events, $24,000 today is quite a common price to pay for a pearl necklace. Still higher prices are given daily for colored stones, which are now very much in favor. A single good turquoise with setting costs in the Rue de la Paix about $600, while $400 each are paid for several rings.

Among the various actresses interviewed was Mlle. Mona Delia, who is one of the most popular favorites of the hour. She declares that with a dress budget of $40,000 yearly she is just able to pay her bills. Of this amount she spends $8,000 for dresses alone.

Mlle. Maina Denis, of the National Opera, estimates that she spends not more than $30,000 annually for dress, but furs alone cost her $4,000 a year to keep up.

The general consensus is that the opinion of Mlle. Cecile Sorel, expressed a short time ago, that no woman could attempt to look decently dressed in a Parisian town for $20,000 yearly, is somewhat exaggerated.

CUSTOMS FIGURES.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Customs receipts for the Dominion for the month of January just closed show an increase larger than that of any corresponding month in the history of the department. The receipts amounted to $2,035,787.75, and the increase to $2,425,602.86.

For ten months of the fiscal year the receipts amount to the imposing total of $24,233,824.45, as compared with $20,248,352.08, an increase of $3,985,472.37.
