Implicate Woman--Police Doubt 20116 Story.

New York Sept. 10.—A special to the Times from London says: Cardinal Vaughan, who does not often speak in public, made a striking address at the opening of the Catholic conference in Newcastle, last evening. Speaking of the royal declaration, the cardinal said that it was the accepted decision of the country that the king must be a Protestant, and it was expedient that the king should be of the religion of the overwhelming majority of his subjects. Catholics, however, had no difficulty in giving their loval allegiance to a Protestant sovereign Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—Sheriff Fogg, of York county, visited Wells today and arrested William T. Bascom, for setting the king's declaration, said the cardinal, did not lie with his majesty, but with religious prejudice. Bigotry has never tainted King Edward's conduct. The royal declaration as it stands, was called by Cardinal Vaughan blasphemous and an insult to three-fourths of Christendom. As a guarantee, he said, it was a sham. As for the House of Lords amendment, it singled out the Catholics' holy religion for solenan denunciation. If there must be a declaration let it be one to the effect that the king was a Protestant, and let it end there. Finally, the cardinal implored Catholics to call them selves Catholics—Roman Catholics, if they pleased, but preferably Catholics is the services in the services and the cardinal implored Catholics to call them selves Catholics—Roman Catholics, if they pleased, but preferably Catholics is the cardinal method as the castery, Canon Clarke, Lancatery, Canon C phone at your ear and actually speed along the identical copper conductor at that time conveying the voice currents, you hear neither dot nor dash of the tele-
