Emigration Among the Operatives.

Smith D. D.

Yesterday an evidence was given by the operatives in this district of their desire to avail themselves of any facilities that may be afforded them for emigrating to any of the colonies. It having been represented to the Mayor of Marchester (Abel Haywood, Esq.,) and some members of the Emigration Committee, recently formed in this city, that several young persons who had already been provided with passages to Australia, and who are to sail within a few days, were still in need of some necessaries for their outfit the Mayor and officers of the Committee agreed to meet these intending emigrants at the Town Hall. Accordingly, yesterday afternoon, there was a numerous were married women and young girls of ages varying from 15 or 16 to 20, besides of a new country. The intention of the Mayor to hold this novel levee became known to a wider circle than that originally contemplated, but the wents and wishes of all were kindly and carefully ascertained. Of course the cases were very varied.
