MOWATT'S SERMONS.

WORDS OF LIFE.—This is the title of a book of sermons by Rev. A. J. Mowatt of Fredericton, N. B., printed at the Reporter printing office of that city. It is a woody sized volume of 350 pages printed on excellent paper and the binding is a model of neatness and taste. Dipping into its contents we find what everyone who has listened to the preacher would expect to find, sermons characterized by fresh vigorous thought, clothed in a Saxon style at once simple, terse, graphic and beautiful. It is no exaggeration to say there are few volumes of sermons equal to it in every respect for popular reading, and very, very few that can be called superior. The ignorant will read with pleasure and understanding, the learned will find delight and profit. The publication of these sermons did not originate with the preacher, but we feel sure that those who have the pleasure of reading them will thank the publisher for having obtained the author's consent and undertaken the work. Price $2.00. Address, Publisher "Reporter", Fredericton, N. B.

I have been enabled to commit my soul to him who says: "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out," and who is "able to save to the uttermost." These two texts have been as sheet-anchors, by which my soul has outrode many a storm when otherwise hope would have failed. "In no wise" takes in all characters, and "to the uttermost" goes many a league beyond all difficulties. I recommend these anchors, they are sure and steadfast.—John Newton,
