

The Freshman's Guide to UNB Orientation

Toga! Toga! Toga!

Where: McConnell Hall
When: September 6
9pm - 1am

Take a sheet, any sheet, and wrap it around yourself, covering only what is necessary, and come on out to the first event of the most exciting two weeks of your life!

Yes, that's right! An Ancient Roman Toga Party will begin the Orientation festivities. Be creative and ingenious and design the most unique, the most daring, the tackiest or the sexiest toga on the face of the earth! There is no right way to make a toga so don't worry about wrapping that sheet around yourself "properly." Just wear it so it feels comfortable and you'll fit right in. If you've got a flag hanging in your room, wear that, or if your mom sent you to university with lovely new flowered sheets, wear them! The wackier, the better.

If you're really into "dressing up" maybe you could win

Orientation's most coveted prize: be Antony (if you're a guy) or Cleopatra (if you're a girl) for the evening. Antony and Cleopatra sit on thrones and feed each other grapes and other goodies. They also win lots of fabulous prizes!

Obviously, the Toga Party is an event you cannot miss. So don't!

Adventure Day

Where: Buchanan Field
(bottom of the hill)
When: September 7
1pm - 4:30pm

If you happen to walk by UNB's Buchanan Field on the afternoon of Wednesday, September 7, you will see a multitude of people scurrying about! No, they are not psychotic students... it's another fabulous Orientation event. It's Adventure Day, complete with a water balloon toss, an inner tube slalom, and a jello jump!

What could be more fun than an afternoon of goofy games and rowdy races? Don't worry if you're not athletically inclined, you only need to have an open mind and a sense of adventure and imagination. Take the earth-ball game, for example. Last year one team was so intent on winning, they developed an intricate strategy - pulling down the opposition's shorts!

You will compete with your Frosh group against other groups and their group leaders. Each team comes to Adventure Day dressed differently: some paint their group number on their faces, some wear matching T-shirts, etc.

The whole day will be topped off with a free Adventure Day bar-b-que! Hamburgers, hotdogs, chicken and salad will satisfy the big appetites you will work up during the afternoon. Sound like a good time? It definitely is, but pray that it doesn't rain!!!

Test your luck at Casino Night

Where: SUB cafeteria
When: September 7
9pm - 1am

Step right up and place your bets! Don't be shy, bet high! That is the cry of Orientation's Casino Night dealers encouraging Frosh to gamble away their play money.

Casino Night is a glamorous evening of splendour for gamblers, dancers and socialites alike. For all of you hot-blooded gamblers there will be blackjack tables, betting wheels and dice games to test your luck. With the money you win, you can purchase fabulous prizes at the Casino Shop. Also, two grand prizes will be auctioned off as the finale of this exciting soiree, so you may want to save your bucks to bid!

For those of you who find gambling "not to your taste," there will be dancing to keep you entertained. Quasi-formal attire is a must . . . wear something black!!

So, if you've always wanted to be a Monte Carlo millionaire or a Las Vegas entrepreneur, the Orientation Casino Night is the chance of a lifetime!

Outdoor concert will Rock!

Where: SUB lawn
When: September 8
8pm - Midnight

You are about to witness the highest of the highlights of orientation week. This is the event where you can take it easy, lay back, and enjoy some great tunes in the great outdoors. Every year we try to provide you with a hot new act who are certain to be a top bill of the future. In recent years we have had "The Box", "Spoons", "Haywire", and last year a band called "Drama", who will be making some noise around Canada for years to come.

This year's entertainment will be provided by "Endless Summer" with a tribute to the Beach Boys, an appropriate finale to a very "beachy" summer! So be ready for some good times with all the friends you've made during Orientation week. Don't plan on hitting the sack early, because we want you out there rocking and talking up a storm (minus the rain, of course). Whatever your musical taste, come out and join the party in front of the Student Union Building.
