SATURDAY SERMONETTE

DRAGGED DOWN. When I was a boy I saw a number of boys, well up in their teens, and a dog chasing a half grown kitten. It ran up a tree and I was in hopes that it would escape the persecution of the dog and the other animals.

I have, since that day of long ago, seen many more cruel things than boys and dogs pulling down from its roof the innocent young girls dragged down from purity to vice.

I have seen wives pulled down by the hands of their husbands as they have tried to climb up to something better. Sometimes his drunkenness has pulled her down. Sometimes his coarseness and vulgarity pulled her down, and there are few slight more pitiful than to see a girl pure and refined dragged down mentally and socially by a coarse husband.

So many to pull down those who are trying to climb up. So few the hands to fight in defence of the climbers. So many to say I am small and weak and only a boy. What can I do against so many who are so much stronger.

And we let the cruel pull down the weak because we are too cowardly to fight for them.

Grass and vegetation have suffered severely in the lakes has been receding at the rate of one inch a day. Numerous forest fires have started. Many mills have been crippled by the lack of water supply, and others have been compelled to shut down for a time entirely.

In many places for two or three feet below the surface there is no water. Potatoes have been dug earlier than is the custom and are much smaller than in previous years.

Country water basins have run dry and in many places the milk supply is being cut off.

There is a shortage of pasture feed, and an absence of green feed and fodder for the cattle.

The situation in Maine appears more serious than any New England state. Last night Edgar E. King has issued a proclamation on the situation in the Maine woods. He urged that the utmost precaution was imperative regarding the building of fires by hunters and others.

In Vermont conditions have become so bad that the mills have been seriously crippled, in many cases it became necessary to close down and thus hundreds have been thrown out of employment.

For several days past the water has been the lowest since 1881 in Lake Champlain, and steamers have discontinued touching at St. Alban's Bay. In the vicinity of Alburg Springs farmers have been compelled to haul water for their cattle four miles.

The West Rutland reservoir is dry and a novel expedient has been resorted to. Seven hundred feet of rubber hose has been connected with a large spring and by means of a steam pump the water has been forced through a hydrant into the village tanks, thus supplying the householders.

Smoke from the burning forests of Maine, Canada and northern New York hung over New England for the past week, obscuring the rays of the sun and threatening to rival the famous "yellow days" of 1881.

HUNDREDS FLOCK TO HEAR SALVATION ARMY LEADER

"A Modern Crusade," Title of Commissioner Coombs' Excellent Address. Delivered to an Overflowing Audience at the Opera House Yesterday Afternoon—Three Meetings Held.

"A Modern Crusade" was the subject upon which Commissioner Coombs of the Salvation Army lectured yesterday afternoon to a great audience in the Opera House. The lecture abounded in illustrations, but no more vivid illustration of the effectiveness of the methods pursued in the Salvationist crusade could be secured than the fact that last night at the meeting held by the officers of the Salvation Army, officers had to be stationed at the doors to turn people away because all rooms were occupied.

Commissioner Coombs addressed gatherings in the Opera House in the morning, the afternoon and the evening. The afternoon meeting was the most important of the three. Premier Hays was to preside at this meeting, but in his absence, Mayor Bullock occupied the chair. The platform, besides some of the officers of the Salvation Army, had seated upon it Dr. Daniel, M. P., W. F. Hatheway, M. P., members of the Common Council and other prominent citizens.

His worship the mayor introduced Commissioner Coombs in a few well-chosen words. The commissioner then arose and was greeted with a storm of applause which prevented his speaking for some time.

Commissioner Coombs also mentioned the darkest England movement, the children's charter and other social reforms which the Salvation Army interests attacked by the Salvation Army. He spoke of the surprising opposition which the Army had encountered on the part of labor organizations and what he termed the "great socialists," of whom he had a very poor opinion. One of the greatest triumphs secured by the Army had been the right of entrance into Russia, a right secured within the past few months.

W. Frank Hatheway, M. P., in the absence of Hon. Wm. Pugsley, moved the adoption of a vote of thanks to the commissioner, Dr. Daniel, M. P., seconded the motion, which was unanimously carried.

The morning there will be a meeting for officers at ten o'clock. In the afternoon Col. Mapp will lead a meeting of soldiers and officers. In the evening there will be a gathering at the Citadel tomorrow the closing meeting will be held.
