

CORONATION IS POSTPONED

King Edward Very Ill But is Improving After Delicate Surgical Operation—Mantle of Gloom Cast Over Entire Civilized World—Hope for the Best.

London, June 26.—Following bulletin posted Buckingham palace 6:15 p. m.:—"His Majesty passed good day and has taken nourishment well. He is less weak and his temperature is now normal."

Signed, LISTER, TREVES, SMITH, LAKIN, BARLOW.

London, June 24.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The coronation of King Edward has been postponed indefinitely. The king is suffering from perityphilitis and underwent a surgical operation this afternoon. The operation was successful. The king did not lose consciousness. Medical bulletins represent the condition of his majesty as not very serious but it is privately admitted that his condition is worse than the court makes out.

Postponement of the coronation on the eve of the ceremony has caused the utmost consternation everywhere. Lords' speculators lost much money.

SHOCKED AT NEWS.

London, June 24.—The news of the king's illness spread like wild fire. The thousands of occupants of the streets suddenly stood still under the shock and gazed at one another in dread of what might come next.

The first news of the king's illness came from the house of commons and then made known at other public bodies as speedily as possible. The earl marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, issued the following during the afternoon: "The earl marshal has received the king's command to express his majesty's deep sorrow that, owing to serious illness, the coronation ceremony must be postponed, but it is the king's earnest hope that the coronation in the country be held already arranged."

The king also expressed the desire to have the dinner to the poor of London postponed.

ASKED FOR HIS SON.

London, June 24.—Immediately after recovering from the operation the king asked for the Prince of Wales. The cabinet has been summoned to meet this evening. The house of commons was crowded today to hear the statement of Mr. Balfour regarding the king's illness. Mr. Balfour said the successful operation removes great load of anxiety. His first impression on hearing the melancholy news was to suggest adjourning, but more careful reflection he came to the conclusion that such would be ill-advised. If the house was to take an exceptional course, it would have advertised that which is now anxiety in the public mind and it might become a panic. He was only thankful to be able to inform the house so far as known at present everything is being as well as it is possible to be expected.

RETURN OF SAM STANLEY

Well Known Mining Mag-nate of Eldorado

Visited Outside Mining Fields and Engaged in Seattle Street Improving.

Sam Stanley of Eldorado returned on the Whitehorse yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Stanley and her sister, Miss Zona Belle Herrett, who comes with them on a pleasure trip. The journey from Seattle consumed six and one-half days only, which is about the best time yet recorded.

Since last fall, when he left here, Mr. Stanley has visited Arizona and other points noted for mining activity in the States, but has spent most of his time in Seattle, where he obtained several large contracts for street improvements, and probably handled dirt there during his vacation at as good a profit as his men have been doing it on Eldorado. Mr. Stanley left with Mrs. Stanley and her sister for Eldorado this morning. During the spring he has had good reports from his places on this creek—Nos. 45, 46 and 24.

While he was in Seattle he heard of the tribulations of the Dawson saloon men in regard to gambling, and now he returns he remarks what a different city it is in this regard as compared with Seattle. There gambling is practically wide open, though of course the gambling places are formally charged once a month and subjected to a fine. These fines bring from $5000 to $6000 every month into the coffers of the city.

In addition to these fines the gamblers pay Johnny Clancy about $3000 per month. This is in accordance with an ante-election agreement for Johnny's services in securing the re-election of Mayor Humes. "In short," says Mr. Stanley, "Johnny Clancy is strictly IT in all such matters." Uncle Tommy Clancy, the Clancy who carried the poke of the clan, died last year, and a week ago one of his famous pacers, a horse called Fred C., sold for $13,000.

OPPOSE A CELEBRATION

In View of King's Serious Illness

Americans Believe That Fourth of July Demonstration Should be Abandoned.

The plans for a general public celebration of the Fourth of July have been somewhat interfered with by the announcement of the serious illness of King Edward. Investigation today reveals the fact that many Americans are of the opinion that good taste and propriety would require that no celebration of a public nature should take place.

A number of prominent American residents were interviewed today by a representative of this paper and all expressed themselves as being opposed to anything in the nature of an elaborate demonstration on that day. Among those seen were Messrs R. W. Calderhead, W. M. Cribbs, E. A. Mizner, H. Te Roller, United States Consul Saylor and others. The general opinion as expressed by these gentlemen is that a regulation Fourth of July program should not be attempted.

"I am opposed to such demonstrations, on general principles," said Mr. Mizner, "and particularly in view of the illness of the king. I do not believe that the idea of a big celebration should be carried out. In my opinion any such display as is contemplated would be in exceedingly bad taste."

"I would like to see the day observed under ordinary circumstances," said Mr. Cribbs, "but inasmuch as the coronation of the king has been postponed on account of his sudden illness, I rather think the idea should be abandoned. Should it develop that the reports of the king's condition are exaggerated, we could do something or very short notice."

"It seems to me," said Mr. Calderhead in reply to a query, "that it would be well not to attempt much of a celebration. We are in a foreign country the ruling monarch of which is seriously ill and consequently I am disposed to believe that it would be in good taste to abandon the idea of a general celebration."

Mr. Te Roller holds the same view as expressed above. "We certainly should not attempt a celebration," said he, "while the king is in his present condition. I think that all Americans in Dawson will sympathize with our British cousins, and that it would be inappropriate, to say the least, to essay an elaborate celebration under existing circumstances."

Special to the Daily Nugget.

Vancouver, June 25.—A report has reached Albuquerque, N.M., of a fight between cattle men near Tucucari which resulted in the death of five cow punchers. "But" Lee of Dona Ana county had watered cattle at a hole and allowed the cattle to walk through the spring and ruin it against the protests of other cattle men. Lee was warned that if he repeated the action he would be killed. He came again accompanied by an old Indian fighter. Eight cowboys were lying in wait and when the battle was finished five cowboys were dead. The rest fled. Lee and partner were untouched.
