SACHEL - OF THE - SATELLITE

Mr. Citizenman, has the city wood yard gold bricked you yet?

There seems to be a good deal of "chessnut" about that city wood yard.

Look out, Mr. Grit hotel keeper, or Whittier will get you, if you don't watch out.

I think that the weather has been kind to the William street pavement contractors.

I suppose that at a fireman's ball the hose reel would be the most popular dance.

If you want to allow a little gambling in your hotel, Mr. County inn keeper, come to Chatham.

Figures may not lie, but a woman can change her considerably with frills and feminine fixtures.

Speaking of football matters, if Percy Piggett is such a good check why doesn't somebody get it cashed.

On Thursday I found one of the brightest sunny summer days that has strayed away from the month of August.

How do you like, Mr. Raleigh Man, to wake up and find that the Canada Company owns your oil well. Is it well?

Mascogni's arrest in Boston only proves that musicians get into as much trouble as possible for advertising purposes only.

If this weather continues, Ebieau residents will spend November at their summer cottages instead of spending July or August there.

I scarcely think that Flouelling, the hotel keeper at McKay's Corners, can belong to the Grit party. He was fined the other day for allowing gambling in his inn.

If the claims of the Canada Company are true, then to the farmers of Raleigh Township that will be a cause of sorrow indeed and the deed needs fixing.

I know why there is no Chatham capital invested in the oil fields of Raleigh. The majority of Chatham capitalists don't know an oil well from a hole in the ground.

It is a great tribute to the climate of this county that the residents of Chatham Township should be popping blossoms in their gardens in November. That's why I feel like laudanum.

Beauty is only skin deep, but love is a little deeper. I imagine, judging by the action of the young man in a Toronto hospital who gave up his own skin to save the arms of his sweetheart.

George Gordon Martin says he is going to construct a flying machine, using as material rails from the city wood yard. Mr. Martin says that that wood is the lightest material he knows of.

I don't see any reason why Waddell and Bitchard objected to that fifteen pound chunk of coal being dropped into their launch. At the price of coal just now, most people would have stopped the launch and waited for more.

President Roosevelt has gone on a bear hunt in the Mississippi delta, and he will be more successful than President Mitchell, who has been on a bear hunt for the past six months. I think if the two presidents got after the one Bear there would be more satisfactory results.

The insurance men have raised the rates on churches. Extra dangerous risks, I suppose, because of the hot times the members have of managing affairs usually—Hamilton Spectator's pie man. Wrong again, Mr. Pastry Maker. The reason for the rise in temperature is the jealousy that is arising between the minister and the choir. The members aren't in it.

"COWARDLY ACTION."
Some alleged sports from Tilbury the other day shot a valuable milch cow belonging to Hooper Taylor, on S. Warnock's farm, Tilbury East. The animal has since died, and yet people wonder why farmers continue to post "no shooting" notices.—Tilbury News.

BLENDED PURE FOOD COMPANY.

It looks like the Canada Company would land all these oil wells.

Look in your deed and see if the Canada Company owns the oil on your farm, Mr. Farmer Man.

Twenty-three-year-old Mae Barnes married Miles Beebe, of Kalamazoo. He died, leaving $300,000 to her. She can now be said to be "maid of money."

A prophet has no credit in his own county, neither have oil wells. Out in Raleigh foreigners have discovered a rich oil field, and not a Chatham man has got a cent invested in the venture.

No, dear cousin Mimbix, the only difference between the corporation wood pile and the coal in your bin is not that one is chestnut wood and the other chestnut coal. There is considerable difference in the heating qualities of the two, although the price is about the same.

W. K. Merrifield says the boy W. C. Keighan lost up the corn stalk in Kansas was rescued by a Canadian without the aid of a balloon. This Canuck had moved there from Kent County and had a flower pot filled with Raleigh Plains earth; he took that and set it beside the corn stalk and planted a Kent County bean in it. The bean grew so rapidly it soon reached the top of the corn and came down to the ground on the opposite side, bringing the boy with it. The sun was hot and he wheeled the beans, and the boy lived on baked beans coming home.

TRouble, INDEED.
The Canada Land Company claims that according to a proviso in the deeds they gave, all the oil found in the Raleigh fields belongs to them. I think that when the lawsuits begin somebody will find that actions speak louder than deeds, and cost more.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS OF A New Cataract Cure.

A large and constantly increasing majority of the American people are cataract sufferers. This is not entirely the result of our changeable climate, but because modern investigation has clearly proven that many diseases, known by other names, are really cataract. Formerly the name cataract was applied almost exclusively to the common nasal cataract, but the throat, stomach, liver, bladder, kidneys and intestines are subject to cataractal diseases as well as the nasal passages.

In fact, wherever there is mucous membrane there is a feeding ground for cataract. The usual remedies, inhalers, sprays, douches or powders, have been practically failures, as far as anything more than temporary relief was concerned, because they simply dry up the mucous secretions without having the remotest effect upon the blood and liver, which are the real sources of cataractal diseases.

It has been known for some years that the radical cure of cataract could never come from local applications, but from an internal remedy, acting on the blood and expelling the cataractal poison from the system. A new internal preparation which has been on the market only a short time, has met with remarkable success as a genuine, radical cure for cataract.

It may be found in any drug store, sold under the name of Stuart's Cataract Tablets, large pleasant tasting lozenges, composed principally of antiseptic ingredients, Bloodroot, Red Gum and similar cataract specifics. Dr. Ainslie in speaking of the new cataract cure says: "I have tried the new cataract remedy, Stuart's Cataract Tablets, upon thirty or forty patients with remarkable satisfactory results. They clear the head and throat more effectively and lastingly than any douche or inhaler that I have ever seen, and they even a little child may use them with entire safety."

Any sufferer from nasal cataract, throat or bronchial trouble, cataract of the stomach, liver or bladder will find Stuart's Cataract Tablets remarkably effective, pleasant and convenient, and your druggist will tell you they are absolutely free from any injurious drug.

WALLACEBURG.

Nov. 15.—Miss Ruby Gordon has returned to Haverhill College, Toronto, after spending the holiday season at her home.

Miss Florence Nightingale had an unfortunate accident yesterday. The little girl picked up a large knife which is used for the purpose of cutting the tops off sugar beets and cut off part of one of her fingers.

Wm. McNurn's new residence on Margaret avenue, East Side, is being built very rapidly.

Theatrical

FAUST.

At the Grand Monday night. The scenery of the Faust Co., in which Alsa Tabor and Helen Hawthorne are starring under the direction of Shipman Brothers, was painted by the celebrated firm of Harvey, Seavey and Moran. These artists, who have painted some of the most artistic and important work ever used in stage productions said, when they turned the Faust set over to Mr. Tabor, that it was as beautiful and complete a set as ever left their studios. The transformation scene showing the heavenward flight of Marguerite's soul, the redemption of Faust, and the defeat of the evil one, as well as that of the garden scene in which is the gorgeous flower spectacle, have been the admiration of everybody.

GUY BROTHERS' MINSTRELS.

At the Grand, Wednesday Nov. 19. The entertainment put on by the Guy Bros' minstrels at the Grand last night, drew a large audience, who were more than pleased with the performance accorded them. The first act consisted of a grand spectacular with special scenery and electrical effects, representing the Hunters' Rest. The hunters came a for a rest and bring their colored servants with them to make things lively. They pass the time with songs and dances. Albert Guy acting as chief of the Hunters. The act was well rendered, and the effects very pretty, while the choruses and solos called forth much applause.

A good word might also be added for the orchestra, which is one of the best on the road. The second part of the evening's amusement was made up as follows: Lavette Brothers, artistic and difficult ring exercises; Howell and Emerson, dancing comedians; Panama Trio, Chas. and Arthur Guy, and Baumbis; Albert Guy and Tom Schaffer, in picture melodies; Victor Lewis, elegant impersonations; king of the wire, Baumbis; musical experts, G. R. and Albert Guy. Each of these specialties was of the highest class, and the last number was a gem. The evening's entertainment was brought to a close with Prof. Schaffer's vivograph, showing moving pictures of Mount Pelée in eruption, the King's coronation, etc.—Evening Times, Kingston, Sept. 30, '02.

Fine.... Underwear

Wear fine underwear, and that necessarily means good underwear, is the advice we proffer.

There are many and vital reasons for our saying so. Our salesmen will explain why.

Our lines of fine underwear are the best—not because we sell them—but because we sell only the best.
