The Thing That Counts.

Did ever jewel rare outshine
A heart that's pure within,
That open to love divine
And bids us gates to win?
Oh, tell me in a gentle mind
Less dear than palace gold?
The soul that joys in being kind
Has peace and rest untold.
Has ever monarch's throne more loved
Than lowly cottage home,
Basking in sunshine from above,
Smiling with heaven's dome?
An honest thought is nobler far
Than all that wealth can buy,
Truth shows the path that's true,
True ends the path of life.

Development of Music in Nova Scotia.

The story of the development of music in Nova Scotia is still in its first chapter, says Mrs. Mary McNab in the Canadian Courier. Along almost every other line we have kept pace fairly well with the times, but we are only beginning to realize our deficiencies and lack of growth in this branch of art. Intellectually, and physically, we are the equals of any, and even commercially we are not so backward as some would make us believe. In church and state, in the arts and sciences, in counting house, market place, and in those pursuits where brain and muscle are also needed we can more than hold our own—but in music and painting we are still in our infancy. It is, however, a vigorous infancy, and an interesting first chapter.

The glee club was, and is still deservedly popular in towns as well as in rural districts and has done much to create a love for good vocal music. Within the last thirty or forty years great advances have been made in the study of instrumental music, and throughout the province a home with out an organ or piano is hard to find. Music teachers abound, so that a four digiton laid, upon which a good structure may be built. I have been told that this vocal and instrumental teaching is driving out the old folk-songs. This is a pity, if true, for these songs are national; they spring from the hearts of the people of old and speak to ours in tones that thrill like no others ever can.

Each good work is being done everywhere by church choirs, glee clubs and choral societies. In New Glasgow there is a very fine choral society, of which the townspeople are justly proud, and Truro has a small but enthusiastic musical club. In Halifax, we have 'The Orpheans,' with its Ladies' auxiliary. The club is still active and doing much to promote the love of good music in the city. The Knights of Columbus have also a musical society which makes a specialty of light opera, and deserves great credit for the way in which its performances are given. Many good voices come to light through these agencies.

One end for which we are planning is the drawing together in some way of church choirs, musical societies, glee clubs, throughout the province, in mutual interests, and finally in co-operation of all in musical festivals, hoping by this means to aid in developing more and more the musical abilities and tastes of our people. 'Music hath charms to soothe the savage'—and has its influence for evil as well as for good. It is the duty, or should be, of all music lovers to foster the love of good music, of melody that inspires to great deeds, of harmonies that cheer and soothe and comfort. We may be a commercial people in a material age, but the love of harmony has come down to us from ancestors who fought for our liberties and dug upon their lips, and in their hearts, the words: 'The land that we loved so dearly, we have given up for you.'

My Digestion Is Now Good

And I Feel Like a Young Man Since Using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

What a horrible condition the digestive system falls into when the liver becomes sluggish and the bowels constipated. The poisonous waste matter is thrown back into the blood stream and finds its way into all parts of the body, causing pain and aches and feelings of fatigue and misery. It is wonderful how quickly Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills sweep the poisons from the digestive system and enable the organs of digestion to resume their natural functions.

Prof. A. T. Smith, 1 Mt. Charles street, Montreal, and formerly of Boston, Mass., writes: 'I suffered for many years from bad digestion, constipation and horrible backaches. I have been treated by many doctors without any results. One day a friend in Boston advised me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. After using two boxes I noticed great improvement and after the fourth box I was completely cured. My digestion is good. I never feel any pain in the back. My head is clear and I feel like a young man. I think Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are one of the best medicines on earth. I can give you a testimonial for them. I am, Sir, a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and I have been in the service for many years. French Kid Skins.

The raising of kids for their skins is an important industry among the French mountaineers. Softness, delicacy of texture and freedom from blemish are principal factors in the value of kid skins, and to secure these essentials great pains are taken. As soon as the young animal begins to eat grass the value of its skin declines, for with a grass diet the kid's skin immediately becomes coarser and harder in texture, and its chief merit thus vanishes. It is, therefore, kept closely penned, not only to keep it from eating grass, but also to protect its valuable skin against accidental injuries that might impair its marketability.

When the kids have attained a certain size at which the skins are in the best condition for the use of the glove they are killed and the hides are sold to dealers. The superior quality of these kid skins, due somewhat to climate conditions, is what has given France the supremacy in the manufacture of the finest grades of real kid gloves, a supremacy that will doubtless long be maintained, inasmuch as foreign manufacturers must be content with second-rate skins.—Harpers Weekly

Good Advice.

Ask favors where you spend your money, is the wording of a sign gotten up by a large stationery house. It is a good rule, too, and one that cannot get a just kick from anyone. If you buy your groceries at home go to the grocer and ask a favor. If you buy your dry goods from a catalogue house, don't go to the dry goods man in your town and ask favors of him, and when you send your printing away from home send away for newspaper favors.

Magnanimity.

Some one has called 'duty' the greatest word in the language. 'Love' is certainly the most beautiful, but 'magnanimity' is perhaps the noblest. In a sense, it is a child of the other two, and bears a family likeness to both its parents. To the ancients the word carried more of the suggestion of physical courage than belongs to it now. 'Great-spirited' meant originally the readiness to face danger without flinching. Because the Greeks and the Romans regarded courage as a great quality, they bestowed upon it one of their greatest words. But as civilization has progressed, 'magnanimity' has come to be translated as 'great-souled' rather than 'great-spirited,' and to convey a meaning that summarizes the highest human qualities. Much of the moral history of the race is wrapped up in the word. If we keep only to its original significance of 'great-spiritedness,' magnanimity still means at least facing our dangers and difficulties with courage, not complaining at the force of the blows or asking quarter, or whining in defeat. He who aspires to translate its present and more noble meaning into life must not merely yield when he might demand; he must do his own duty and yet judge with charity; exact nothing except from himself; grant much to others.

Taken Home on a Mattress.

HOW A SUFFERER FROM SCIATICA FOUND PERMANENT RELIEF.

Piercing darting pains, pains like red hot needles being driven through the flesh in the thigh, perhaps down the legs to the ankles—that is sciatica. None but the victim can realize the torture of this trouble, and many suffer from it hopelessly in the belief that it cannot be cured. This is a mistake; sciatica is a nerve trouble, and if the starved nerves are properly nourished with rich, red blood the trouble will soon disappear. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make just the new, pure blood needed to feed the sciatic nerve and drive out the racking pain it has been proved over and over again that they can do this and we offer now the following additional piece of evidence. Mr. E. H. Pastors, Harrow, Ont., says: 'Some years ago I was terribly afflicted with sciatica, starting just in my hip and then extending through the leg to the foot. At the time I was attacked I was away from home and had to be brought home on a mattress in a spring wagon, and the agony of the trip was almost more than I could endure. Reaching home I was not able to sit up and remained in bed for six weeks. The doctor did not help me and I tried a number of medicines recommended by neighbors. I paid $5.00 a bottle for one preparation, but it was no better than the rest, and I began to think there was no cure for me. While suffering this untold misery Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended, and my wife got me a supply. In the course of a few weeks I began to feel better and could get around with the aid of a cane. I kept on taking the Pills until all the pain disappeared and I felt as well as ever I did. I have never had an attack of the trouble since, and although I am now 67 years of age I feel as vigorous as I did at 40, all of which I ascribe to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.'

If you are suffering from sciatica or any nerve or blood trouble, begin to cure yourself to-day by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which will assuredly do for you what they have done for others, if you give them a fair trial. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $3.00 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

'I think, dear, I'll make my will. 'Why should you do that? You haven't anything to leave.' 'I know, but it seems to be the only way in which I can have a will of my own.'

Factory and Farm.

No better example of the interdependence of the manufacturing and agricultural interests is required than Ontario. It is not necessary to go into the enormous industrial expansion in the province in the last two years. This is everywhere evident. But what of the farm? The field crops of Ontario last year were valued at $250,000,000 or an average of $1,666 from each of the 150,000 farms. Five years ago, the value of Ontario's agricultural output was placed at 145 millions and ten years ago it was not more than a hundred million. The number of farms to share in that one hundred million was larger than now, so that the average income of each farm was considerably less than $1,666. In fact, the average income in 1907 was about $600, according to calculations made from statistics published by the Department of Agriculture. This means that the Ontario farm of today is giving its owner returns that are at least 160 per cent greater than they were in 1901. The growing value of the output of the farms can only result in one thing, and that is the increase of value of the land. Thus, the latest records of the assessment of the rural areas show that the farm lands of Ontario are worth over $100,000,000 more than in the first years of the last decade. To make the comparison still more striking, the assessed rural land of Ontario is worth $70 an acre more than in 1901 and another significant fact is that the area of these lands has extended in the last ten years fully 150,000 acres.

What is true of Ontario also applies to Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The greatest prosperity is where a fertile farming district is tributary to a good factory town. The one helps the other. The best market for the local farmer is the home market and the best produce for the citizen is from the nearby farms and gardens.

Add pepper to taste and a teaspoon of grated onion. Moisten with milk and a teaspoon of melted butter. Bind the fish with a string and place in a hot pan with a teaspoon of melted butter and lay the fish in on the strips of salt pork. Pour over the fish two or three tablespoons of tomato catsup and two of hot water. Bake for an hour in a moderately hot oven, basting frequently.

EVEN a good cook likes to work with "easy" ingredients. But she has learnt that all is not gold in fact that glitters in promise. Does the following look to you like a gilded promise or a truthful fact?

Regal Flour makes the best quality and the utmost quantity of bread per barrel of any flour you have ever used. White, light loaves always. And pastry of melting fineness.

Unless Regal Flour proves every bit as worthy as we say, your dealer will return your money. We protect him in that. Isn't that a substantial offer? The sooner you ask for Regal the easier your bakesdays.
