Cream of the West flour is giving excellent satisfaction. Let us send you a small bag of 4 lb. to try. R. E. HARRIS & SONS.

The ladies of the Wolfville Baptist church have arranged to furnish an auto ride on Saturday afternoon. Owners of cars are kindly loaning them for the occasion and for twenty-five cents anyone may enjoy a half hour's ride. The cars will start from the church at 2 o'clock and if the weather is favorable a very enjoyable time is assured. The accommodation is necessarily limited and those wishing to participate should arrange for seats at once. The young ladies of the congregation have arranged to serve a tea in the basement of the church during the afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

We take orders for Christmas and New Year Greeting cards. Give us your order before the rush commences. THE ACADIAN.

Extending the Parcel Post.

It is welcome news that the post office officials who are preparing the details of the extended parcel post system which we hope to see in vogue next January, are considering providing facilities for selling eggs, butter and poultry through the mails. There should be no insurmountable difficulty in the way of arranging this and it would be well worth arranging to get these necessary commodities straight from the farmer's house at a price which is now beyond his dreams. It would be the way not only to reduce the cost of living but improve the quality. The farmer would benefit also, as with some enterprise he could easily obtain a steady clientele which would put him beyond the necessity of worrying about the fluctuations and idiosyncrasies of the market.

The Provincial Sunday School Convention.

The twenty-ninth Annual Convention of the Nova Scotia Sunday School Association will be held this year in the town of Amherst, beginning on Wednesday the 22nd and closing Friday the 24th. St. Stephen's Presbyterian church has been chosen as the Convention Church.

Proceeding the Convention, there will be held on Wednesday morning and afternoon, a Pastors' Conference, for which a strong programme has been arranged.

The main topic to be considered at this Conference will be 'The Problem of the Teen Age'; indeed, throughout the main Convention as well, this will doubtless be the prominent theme. The Association is endeavoring through the medium of its Secondary Division to solve the problem of holding the boys and girls in the Sunday Schools and for the Church.

The International Sunday School Association will be represented by Rev. Franklin McElharris, D. D., who occupies the position of Superintendent of the International Department of Sunday School Education. Dr. McElharris is recognized as one of the Sunday School Leaders of the continent, and is no stranger to the Sunday School workers in Nova Scotia, having been in attendance at the Convention in Middleton in 1911.

A strong and comprehensive programme has been prepared for the Convention, including among its speakers, men who are prominent in the Universities of the Maritime Provinces and in the active work of the Church and who are engaged in studying closely the problems of the Sunday School.

This Convention will be a unique opportunity to all who are interested in the great work of the Sunday School and the Church.

Wedding Bells.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Wolfville Baptist church on Wednesday evening, when Miss Charlotte Mary, third daughter of the late Angus S. Murray, of Wolfville was united in marriage to Mr. G. R. Forbes, manager of the Canadian Rubber Co., Halifax. The ceremony took place at 8:30 o'clock and was witnessed by a large number of friends and well-wishers. The church was very prettily trimmed for the occasion with ferns and autumn leaves.

Rev. G. W. Miller, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated, assisted by Rev. E. D. Webber, pastor of the Baptist church. Miss Beatrice Rockwell, organist of the church, furnished the music.

The bride, who is one of Wolfville's most popular daughters, presented a picture of girlish grace. She was dressed in white satin bordered with ermine and draped with D'Alencon lace caught with brilliant buckles, with veil of Brussels lace and shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley, and was given away by her uncle, Mr. A. J. Woodman.

She was attended as bridesmaid by her sister, Miss Margaret Murray, who was dressed in pink satin draped with D'Alencon lace, caught up with pale-blue flowers; pink hat trimmed with roses, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Estey, was dressed in powder blue satin, draped with chiffon and gipsure lace, pearl trimming, with hat to match, and bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Murray, the bride's mother, was dressed in mauve velvet, trimmed with point lace and purple gardenias, with hat of purple velvet with ostrich plumes.

Mrs. W. N. Forbes, of Dartmouth, mother of the groom, was dressed in blue brocade satin, and Mrs. Smith, of Halifax, sister of the bride, was attired in blue and gold brocade satin, with gold lace.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Eric Forbes. Messrs. R. A. Macdonald and E. W. Anshand, of Halifax, and J. R. Black, of Wolfville, were the ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother at which a large number of guests were present. Dainty refreshments were served and the happy young couple were the recipients of congratulations and best wishes. Numerous and costly wedding gifts attended to the popularity of the bride, who will be much-suspected in Wolfville. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Forbes were driven by automobile to Kentville, and after an extended trip to Boston, New York and other cities, will reside in Halifax. They certainly wish their much happiness and prosperity.
