Catalina Hails Sir Robt. Bond

AND THANKS DR. LLOYD.

Editor The Evening Telegram. Dear Sir—Perhaps the many readers of The Evening Telegram would like to know how Catalina received the announcement that Sir Robert Bond had assumed the leadership of the united forces of the Liberals and Unionists, to cast from power the present gang of Grab-balls in November next. Complete Victory. We hail with delight the glad news, for it means a complete victory for the Opposition, not only in Trinity District, but throughout the country. We congratulate President Coaker on his success in getting the greatest statesman in Newfoundland and the peer of any in the British Empire, to again enter the fight for a clean and honest administration of the public affairs of our country. Dr. Lloyd, the tried and true friend of the P. U., deserves the thanks and support of every member of the Union for the noble work he has done in bringing about the alliance of two mighty forces for the overthrow of the greatest crowd of imposters and spendthrifts Newfoundland has ever been afflicted with.

For the Opposition. Catalina Council includes about ninety per cent. of the voters of Catalina and Little Catalina, who will vote as a unit for the Opposition. The amalgamation of Liberals and Unionists will give us about ninety-five per cent. of the whole voting population. By polling day we shall practically have a solid Liberal-Union vote, for we all want to be on the winning side and share in the glory of victory over graft and boodlesism. All the vile slanders and misrepresentations of a venal press will only Needs Attention.

Editor The Evening Telegram. Dear Sir—in the interest of the public I would call the attention of the authorities to the old dilapidated building at Fort William which is liable to come down at any moment with serious results. In fact the whole surrounding of this place has the appearance of careless neglect. I do not know who is in possession of this property at present, but I think the Municipal Council who has control of the city affairs should make enquiry and have something done to safeguard the place and put it in a respectable condition. Seeing children in the vicinity of this old ruin, unaware of their danger, induced me to write this. Investigations after an accident has occurred may be alright but to my mind an investigation before that would tend to prevent such an occurrence would be more wise. Forewarned is forearmed, and now I an accident should occur from the collapse of the unsightly "pile" of terrible responsibility will rest somewhere. The place is a disgrace to the respectable locality and should be locked off immediately. Thanking you, sir, for space, I remain truly, CITIZEN. St. John's, Sept. 6th, 1913.

A Crazy Teacher.

Special to Evening Telegram. MICHEL HANSEN, Germany. September 5. A crazed teacher, named Wagner, who murdered his wife and four children yesterday at Degerloch, set fire to the village of Muchel Hansen, in four places last night, and in a fusillade with the villagers, who tried to capture him, eight persons were shot and killed and ten wounded. The man took refuge in a stable, where he killed all the cattle. He was overpowered. It was found that he had exhausted 250 cartridges with which he had provided himself. The enraged villagers wreaked their vengeance by clubbing the man and stabling him with pitch forks. The man will probably die.

WINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

The Braggart.

The braggart is a human puff ball equipped with a self-starter. His motive power is compressed air, and he is able to make rapid headway until interrupted by an eyewitness who can testify to the facts. Braggarts have existed ever since man quit climbing trees and took to wearing the belted Norfolk jacket. Among the world's greatest braggarts are those who never got fifteen feet away from the commissary department and then came home to describe how it felt in the Hornets' Nest at Gettysburg. The Union soldier who saw real service and returned from the front full of honestly-earned glory and scintillating anecdotes is the last man to brag about his part in the great struggle. Braggarting is caused by a rush of conceit to the head, where it is mixed with imagination and ejected in the form of sound waves. Some business men are able to brag with so much finesse that the bank never calls in their notes until the receiver's sale is half over. As a rule, the more a man brags about his day's sales the less show there is for his creditors. The braggart is very often an in-offensive person who, by long practice, has trained himself to believe what he says. This is the hardest kind to deal with, as he never brags about anything that happened during the present generation. When a braggart brings his narrative down to week before last, he generally aims to hit the truth at least once in every chapter, for fear of being exposed before he has time to back up. It is a melancholy truth that men brag more than women, although women have fully twelve times as much to brag about. If the average man should take a family of seven small children, rear them to the self-supporting age on the proceeds of the wash tub and pay off an $800 mortgage with the scrub brush, the chances are he would brag about it on his death bed and want the facts engraved upon his tombstone in letters that could be read from the street. This is another reason why woman should not be allowed to have the ballot.
