CHOSEN FROM

Sales Last Month.

Considering the large number of remedies for coughs and colds that are now offered to the public, and in view of the fact that nearly every druggist has a preparation of his own which he makes an effort to substitute for the medicine asked for, it seems truly remarkable that the demand for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine should increase by such leaps and bounds.

During October the sales of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine exceeded by several hundred bottles the record of any previous month In its history. When it is remembered that this preparation receives very little newspaper advertising the evidence seems to be conclusive that it makes its way by sheer force of merit. Thinking people recognize the harmfulness and danger of using strong drugs which are said to cure a cold in a few hours. They prefer to cling to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, which they know beyond a treatment for coughs, colds, croup bronchitis, whooping cough, throat Irritation, asthma, and even consump-

The combination of linseed and turpentine, with half a dozen other ingredients of equal value for treating colds, in such proportion as they are found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, has proven to be a perfect protection against such developments as pneumonia, consumption, and serious lung troubles. You can with certainty rely on this preparation to afford prompt relief and perfect cure.

Do you suppose that the sale of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine would be more than three times that of any similar preparation if it was not the most effective remedy that money can buy? It has stood the test and proven itself worthy of the confidence that is placed in it. People recommend it one to another, and so the good news spreads. Mr. R. A. The new officers are: Honorary president, Mrs. Murray; president, Miss Fairbairn; vice-president, Miss J. Gunn; secretary, Miss M. Purdom; treasurer, Miss I. Purdom; organist, Miss Walker.

Mr. C. R. Somerville read the sixth annual report of the Outlook Mission Band, the banner band of the presbytery, whose secretary is Miss E. McArthur. Its contributions for the year amounted to $165 32, and the officers for this year are: Honorary president, Mrs. Johnston; president, Miss L. When the report of the choir was submitted by Mr. Charles Wheeler, organist, several of those present took the opportunity to make complimentary references to its efficiency.

The statement of the treasurer of the Y. P. S. C. E. showed receipts slightly exceeding $80. This society's prosperity is not judged by the financial standing, but by its success spiritually, which this year has ben abun-

Before the meeting adjourned, hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Rev. Dr. Johnston for the energy with which he had assisted the various or-ganizations of the church. PROSPERITY

Presbyterian Church.

Session Expects Further Increase in Membership-Work of Church Organizations.

The annual meeting of the St. James' Presbyterian Church was held last night, and resulted in abundant evidence being given of its prosperity. It was not largely attended, but as the paster, Rev. A. J. McGillivray, said, this might be taken as an indication of the congregation's satisfaction with the work of the year, the members having learned by the printed report how the church affairs stood.

Messrs. Gillean McLean and T. A. Rowat were appointed chairman and secretary of the meeting respectively, and the former said, in speaking of the estimates for this year, that they would in all probability exceed last year's expenditures by over $870. They had 157 subscribers, and 13 more were estimated as the number of new subscribers who would be secured during the year. He suggested an advance in the subscriptions of the various subscribers in a certain proportion, which would leave the managers with a balance at the end of the year. Rev. Mr. McGillivray said that the total membership was 320, and in view of the average number of subscribers in other churches, he thought that between 225 and 250 subscribers should be secured, and various methods were proposed for increasing the subscriptions, although no action was taken. Messrs. H. M. Douglass, P. J. Thompson, B.A., and D. M. Cameron, three retiring managers, were reappointed for another term of three years in office, and Mr. J. McPherson was also appointed to the board. Messrs. S. Baker and John Drewe were appointed auditors, and the miscommittee, Messrs. Baker, Omond. Weir, Brown, McPherson, Tytler, Gray and Rev. Mr. Ballantyne, which was temporarily appointed last year, was re-elected for the year 1902. The managers will appoint the stewards and ushers. A vote of thanks was tendered to the societies and officers who have worked during the year for the church's success. The session reported that the attendance upon the services and the interest manifested abundantly justified the erection of their beautiful and commodious house of worship in the northern part of the city. An evidence of the interest in and need for the church was found in the fact that 165 persons had been added to the communion roll in less than two years, and they had every reason to believe that large accessions would mark the history of the church in the future as in the past. The report said further that the session rejoiced in the continued prosperston thanked the congregation for this ity of the Sababth school and in the ident, Mr. A. S. Appreciation was expressed of the work was to preach. He spoke gently marked to the conclusion that a pastor's real work done by Mr. James A. Mr. Blair had very pressing obligations, he believed that St. Andrew's should be the con- of gratitude. The session rejoices in a of gratitude. The session rejoices in a growing interest in the church at home and abroad, and in the increase in the missionary contributions as a congregation. The members added on profession of faith were sixteen and by certificate thirty-nine. The members removed by certificate were twentyone, leaving the total number on the roll three hundred and twenty. Communion was held five times during 1901; sixteen were received at the first communion, but were reported for 1900. Seventeen children and four were baptised. The session fund report showed the cash received $22 55. The disbursements were $14 90, leaving cash on hand of $7 65. No Argument Needed. WOMEN HAVE

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot readily cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief. The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane. The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaicol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient

The manufacturers of the new catarrh Cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.
Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Remedies contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever, and are equally beneficial for little children and adults. Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from A WILD RIDE.

Their Cab Horses Dash Three Miles Along Elevated Track.

Fast Train Meeting Them Stopped by Telephone Just in the Nick of Time-The Drunken Driver Arrested.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—In a wild ride in a hack on the elevated tracks of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Sunday evening three women narrowly escaped with their lives. Charles Spaulding, the driver, was arrested when the team was caught in front of on the elevated tracks for three miles. A dozen policemen with lanterns were compelled to fire several shots before Spaulding would halt. At the same time the Kenosha fast express was flagged to avoid a collision, and the crew and passengers were badly scared by the belief that train robbers were at work.

FUNERAL, THEN MAD RIDE. The occupants of the carriage were Mrs. Joseph Griffin, of 874 Montrose boulevard, with her daughter, Miss Alice Griffin, and Miss Kate Padden. The three women had attended a funeral at Forest Home during the afternoon, and were being driven home. Mrs. Grif-fin's husband is the owner of the Sunnyside livery, where the team belonged.

It was about 6 o'clock in the evening when Spaulding, who had taken a few drinks to fortify himself for the cold ride, drove the cab containing the women up the incline of a switch which runs from Diversey bouleveard to the main line of the Northwestern.

Then Spaulding turned the horses north on the elevated structure, and before the women could protest whipped the animals to their highest speed, thinking, he said afterwards, that he could find a place to get back to the road before he would be discovered on the tracks. When he first turned on the switchway he said he believed that was a part of the road, and when he discovered the mistake did not have room enough to turn around.

WOMEN CRY: MAN LASHES HORSES.

When the carriage wheels began to jump from cross-tie to rail and back again the women became badly fright-ened, and cried to Spaulding to stop the horses. The man's answer was a crack of the whip. After a half mile had been passed the women began to scream for help, and in their efforts to open the window of the carriage broke the glass. Then their cries were heard, and the Sheffield avenue police were notified. The town hall police station only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a wagon to the tracks. Before the police could reach the crossing at Addison street and the railroad, however, the cab had passed.

The ironwork on the subway at the Addison street crossing caught the top of the carriage and held it for an instant. Seizing the opportunity, Mrs. Griffin and the two young women jumped. In another instant the driver had got clear of the obstruction and started north again.

Mrs. Griffin fainted as she struck the ground. Several persons who had been attracted by the screams of th ran to the scene, and Mrs. Griffin was carried to the residence of John Farley, 549 Newport avenue. Later in the evening Mr. Griffin came in a carriage to remove her to her home, but the physicians would not allow her to be taken away.

FLAG TRAIN, STOP RUNAWAY. When the town hall police found they were unable to capture Spaulding the Summerdale police were notified, and a patrol wagon filled with policemen went on a run to the railroad station. for liabilities, $10,849 26-a total of When the wagon reached the tracks the light of the cab could be seen coming from the south. At the same time to view. "Run and flag that train," shouted Sergeant O'Halloran, of the Summerdale station, putting a lantern into the hands of one of the policemen. Then he, with other men, started to intercept the horses.

Spaulding showed no disposition to check the team, and Sergeant O'Halloran fired several shots from his re-volver almost in the animals' eyes. The team wavered, one of the horses fell to its knees, and the wild ride was ended. Just as the team was stopped the train that had been signaled came to a standstill only a few feet away. The engineer, who feared a holdup, said that he almost had decided to throw open the trottle and dash by the warning lantern. The train was delayed fifteen minutes while the carriage was lifted from the track and carried to the side of the road. Another train from the city also was stopped until the vehicle was taken down the switchway at Berwyn

Mr. Griffin said that Spaulding had been addicted to the morphine habit. He had been employed by him for three months. Spaulding was locked up on a temporary charge of "drunk and disorderly."
