PEOPLE'S RAILWAY MAY BE ABSORBED BY C. N. R.

Announcement Made Following Selection of a New Board.

Berlin, Ont., July 17 --It was learned from an official source tonight, following a meeting at which a new board of directors was elected by the People's Railway Company, that negotiations will now go forward with the Canadian Northern Railway Com-pany with a view to the People's Rail-way being taken over by that conway being taken over by that concern. A report in an evening paper that the Bugg brothers were opposed to this proposition was authoritatizety denied. There was a move to have the road taken over by the Acme Construction Company, but this was turned down by the directorate.

A representative of the C. N. R. was here today, but was not prepared to place anything definite beforce the needing. The news that there is a special meeting then resolved itself into

New York, July 17. — The final ried.

New York, July 17. — The final chapter in a traged of love and deception, wherein a cheated love sought relief in death, was written today, when the ashes of Miss Elizabeth Berlin and Horst von Kaltenborn, were thrown to the four winds from the top of the Statue of Liberty, in accordance with their dying requests.

Yesterday the urns containing the store stood side by side in the window of an undertaking shop. The urn containing the man's ashes was an imposing vase valued at $126, that containing the man's ashes was an imposing the woman's, a tomato can there being no money left for a better receptacle.

You Raltenborn died on Jan, 9 of tuberculosis, aged 40. Then Miss Berlin learned of his deception and ended her life four months later—May 1.

For years Von Kaltenborn had lived at the apartment of Miss Berlin, von Kaltenborn told her father he was a political exile from Germany, He told her he was a nobleman and succeeded in borrowing all of her money on his fictitious estates, promising to wed her.

The question of finances was then considered, and Mr. Clark asked that overdue subscriptions be paid up in order to meet current expenses and $125 due Mr. Hill for the month of June.

An honorarium was voted to Mr. Hill of $125 on his retirement from the parish. It was at first moved that he be granted this amount without any date of payment stipulated. In this form the resolution was vigorously opposed by Messrs. Archer and James. "We will keep on paying him $125 per month for no end of time," said Mr. Edward James, "if we go on in this way. Fifrst thing we know we will be passing a resolution of regret at the retirement of Mr. Hill from this parish."

It is in this fact that the greatest danger to the Woodrow Wilson presidential boom is to be found, for Tammany does not want him nominated, in a year when it looks as if Democratic success might be possible. Governor Wilson has become entirely too radical to suit the conservative braves of the Tammany organization, and so they will favor Governor Harmon, of Ohio, or some other conservative; or, failing that, some radical who has not put himself on record so offensively as Governor Wilson has done.

Dublin, July 18. — We have just passed through what is known as the "Irish week," which is now an established institution in quite a number of Irish cities and towns. It is a week in which a great effort is made to advertise Irish-manufactured goods, to show them in the shop windows, and to popularize them at exhibitions and bazaars.

One of the important functions of the "Irish week" in Dublin this year has been an all-Ireland industrial conference, which met in the council chamber of the city hall. One of the most memorable speeches made durthe polls, no matter who may be the

For if Tammany, with only one-third of the delegates behind it, should in the end be compelled to yield, it would perhaps carry its disappointment to the poils, just as it did in 1888, when its desertion of Cleveland prevented that gentleman from carrying New York, and being re-elected president. To show something of the influence of Tammany at that time, it will be recalled that Cleveland lost the state by 14,373, while David Bennet Will of Tammany and Bennet Will of Tammany and Bennet Will of Tammany for the state by 14,373, while David Bennet Will of Tammany for the state by 14,373, while David Bennet Will of Tammany for the state by 14,373, while David Bennet Will of Tammany for the state by 14,373, while David Bennet Will of Tammany for the state by 14,374, while David Bennet Will of Tammany for the state of the state by 14,373, while David Bennet Will of Tammany for the state of the state by 14,374, while David Bennet Will of Tammany for the state of the state Mr. Russell, both officially and unofficially, is an optimist about Ireland. Indications of Trouble.

Already there are indications of a factional controversy between Indiana Democrats as to whether they shall support Harmon or Wilson for the presidency, the one being the conservative, and the other the radical. The contest has been brought on in Indiana a good deal earlier than in any of the other states, and it will pay all who care for national politics to watch it with some national politics to watch it with some

Item types the purpose of determining what presidential candidate the state delegation shall favor. The contest, it is said in this city, will be prolonged and bitter, for there are many radicals among the New York Democrats, and many other Democrats, not radicals, who think they see the unwisdom of permitting trammany Hall to assume any large degree of political power than it already possesses. These men will fight as hard as they can, but in the end it is rather expected that they will be defeated, and that Trammany, with the solid delegations from Greater New York behind it, will carry enough of the country districts to give it a majority of the delegation. The enforcement of the unit rule will do the rest.

Washington, July 17.—Tammany thall is planning to exert a great deal of influence on the Democratic national convention next year, and to have more to say as to who shall be the nominee for the presidency than since 1884 and 1888, when it was the most potent single factor in the Democratic party.

It is thus easy to see that perhaps the greatest danger the Democrats are to encounter in 1912 will be rejuvenated and triumphant Tammany Hall, once more torong enough to aspire to national serious enough to cause a great many of the party leaders in this city to feel uncertain about the outcome. These leaders sincerely believe they can win next year, if the party can be held together, but how to hold it together with the party and be held together, but how to hold it together with the party on the party can be held together, but how to hold it together with the party of the party can be held together, but how to hold it together with the party can be held together.
