They were a good investalso some of the questions relating to ment to the church, as it is from the he future welfare of the diocese.

His lordship made a strong plea for arger stipends for the clergy, espeially the younger men just beginning heir work. He also outlined at considerable length his views on church union, the general trend of his remarks being to the effect that the present proposals for church union in But he urged more attention to the Canada were too limited in their church's mission in our own surcope, and if carried out would probbly result in the church being cut off from the main stream of Christenom, and instead of helping forward church unity would possibly form only another church. He urged patience in the matter. "There are no short-cuts to church unity," he said. "The present divisions have been created he said, that Christ was at work in through hundreds of years, and they will not be healed in a day." A Great Problem.

He laid stress on the idea that church unity was much more than a Canadian problem. To attempt ourely Canadian solution would be t tream of Christendom, and to prouce a hybrid, disowned by all. The Church of England in Canada ne said, could not deal with the quesion except in full accord with the Anglican body in other parts of the world. It would be a breach of faith with the church throughout the world. The Canadian synod could not do way with the historic episcopate and the doctrine of the necessity of con-firmation to full church membership. It was precluded from doing so by a olemn declaration.

The joint committee of the Presby-.$10.00 to $100.00 terian, Methodist and Congregational to negotiate Pearl and Diamond Pendants, with the Anglican Church unless the signs of a return to the Church of historic episcopate were left an open question. He also urged the retention of the something not to be lost sight of in the negotiations for union with the other churches "Amity," he said, "is purchased too dearly if it involves the sacrifice of truth or principle. We are prepared to sacrifice much for church unity, but not all. What are they prepared to sacrifice?

Diocese Prospers. In commencing his charge the bishop referred to the prosperous condition of the diocese as calling for thanksgiving to God. The number of active clergy within the diocese was the largest in its history, as was also the number of churches.

The substantial balance of income but was not the result of increased giving on the part of the people, the same having remained stationary during the same having remained stationary during the

He spoke at considerable length on the subject of increased stipends for the clergy, the subject, he said, being constantly borne upon by the difficulty of finding properly qualified men o fill the ranks of the ministry. The nsufficient pay of the clergy was one of the chief obstacles which prevented young men from entering the ministry. No one would desire to see the stipends increased for the purpose of attracting young men, as this tended to the materialistic view of the ministry, but on the other hand Christian people today are likely to overlook the fact that he insufficient stipend produces the worldly minister, because worry as to the wherewithal to supply the necessities of life detracted from his spirit-

The commendations dealt with the grants ward making up the salary of priests charge of mission churches. chemes were advanced which the synod will consider, but the one which nost commended itself to his lordship vas to only one class of missions with a minimum stipend in all of $900 and a maximum grant of $350. The change would mean an increased expenditure of about $2,500. Another increase of $2,100 would result from carrying into effect a more liberal policy in regard to the widows and orphans, of ministers, and superannuated men, but this, he thought, was justified in view of the dvance of the times. His lordship also pointed out that the time was drawing near when it would be necessary to appoint a suc essor to the secretary-treasurer. Ven. Archdeacon Young. He suggested that the synod empower the bishop and xecutive committee to appoint some exactive committee to appoint some ished top skin, but so gradually as not to discommode you at all. 176 Adelaide St., St. John, N. B .- "I cured my little boy of a bad case of dandruff with Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Thedandruff formed on his head soon after birth. The hair was dry and lifeless and almost all out on one side of his head. I washed the little head twice a day with warm water and Cuticura Soap, dried it, and very carefully applied the Cuticura Ointment and in about an hour took a very fine little comb and the dandruff would lift off in sheets and some of the hair would come too. Then I would put some Cuticura Ointment on and let it remain till time to wash the head again. I used a large box of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap and his hair was coming in nicely and the scales all gone.
