EVIDENCE FROM CAPTAIN

First Footwear Received by Halifax Men Soon Wore Out.

ICanadlan Press.1

Ottawa, March 17.-Captain Kaiser, of the 63rd Regiment, who had pre sided over a board of inquiry into the boots on McNab's Island, Halifax, on September 29, was the first witness called at the resumption of the parlamentary boot inquiry this morning. He testified that the boots which had been part of an issue of Gauthier boots had been served out on August 14, and had worn out under fairly heavy service, including trench digging, in two or three weeks. The chief cause of complaint had been the soles. He BREWSTER COMPANY had gathered from some of the men that they appeared to have burned

The witness said that a second issue of boots received on October 12 had proved satisfactory and, though they. received harder service than the first ones, had caused no complaints. He had complained of the boots long before this issue was made, as many men were going around day and night with bags tied around their footwear, It's a wonder some of them didn't die," said Hon. Charles Murphy.

Soldiers Bought Boots. Capt. Mumford, president of another board of the 63rd, which sat on September 29, gave somewhat similar evidence. The first issue of ante-bellum Gauthier boots had worn out in two three weeks-his board having rejected 15 pairs-as they seemed not heavy enough for trench digging. second issue in October had proved quite satisfactory, especially as this Friery has been the store manager. gave the men two pairs, and as dub-bing had been provided for them. However, added, any man on outpost duty had to take this chance in sleeping out with wet feet.

Capt. Forbes, president of another board on McNab's Island on September 29, and Capt. William Taylor, president of a board at York Farm Camp, on eptember 30, both stated there had been many complaints of the first issue, and none of the second. Capt. Taylor said that if two pairs of boots had been issued to each man in the first place there would not have been nearly so much complaint,

Should Be Waterproof. Major MacKenzie, president of poard which inquired on December 21 into boots issued to the 26th Battalion, second contingent, at St. John, and which had condemned the boots as containing "rubbish leather" and being of low military standard, stated, though Mr. Pringle quoted military authorities to the contrary, that he considered a military boot should be a waterproof boots had worn out in two weeks.
